PAY ON WAR DEBTS; FIVE
IN DEFAULT

Britain Makes Payment in Gold of $95,550,000; Czechoslovakia, Italy, Latvia, Finland, Lithuania Meet Obligations.

FRANCE HEADS LIST OF THOSE NOT PAYING

Hoover Expected to Send Message to Congress Soon on Future Policy—Congressman Would Bar Securities of Defaulters.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The treasury announced today that Great Britain, Czechoslovakia, Finland, Italy and Lithuania had paid in full the instalments of their war debts due today and that Latvia had met its payment of $18,552 excepting $37,000 postponed for two years under terms of the London agreement.

The treasury said France, Belgium, Hungary and Poland had defaulted on their debts and that no word had been received from Romania.

Great Britain paid a total of $95,550,000, Czechoslovakia $1,500,000, Finland $186,235, Italy $1,245,427 and Lithuania $92,385.

The payment due today from France was $10,261,432, from Belgium $2,125,000, from Hungary $40,000 and from Poland $4,427,980.

Another nation, Greece, on Nov. 15 failed to meet a $444,920 payment and today it was indicated that she would also pass up a payment due Jan. 1.

France Gives Can't Pay Notice. Ambassador Claudel called on Secretary Stimson at the State Department with a note from Premier Laval stating that France was unable to carry formal notification that the fall of the French cabinet had ended the Government's hands on making the debt payment.

Minister Verrier of Czechoslovakia, in giving Stimson notice of the country's payment, presented a note asserting that the remittance committee, in the utmost self-defense, had made the final effort to meet the obligation under such extremely unfavorable circumstances. It concluded that it is the "profound conviction of the Czechoslovak Government that only such a final effort could have been made at the earliest possible date concerning the reconsideration and revision and also the inclusion of this latest installment into the forthcoming arrangement can be made for the revision of the present most distressing situation."

The Polish Ambassador and the Estonian Minister were handed the country's second refusal to extend the debt moratorium by Charles D. Dana, a similar note was mailed to the Estonian Consul-General in New York. The Lithuanian Minister then called at the State Department, followed by other representatives of the six nations, by presenting a check for $18,552 drawn on a local bank.

The Italian Charge D'affaires at St. Louis, in a letter to Stimson, informed him that the Italian Ministry of Finance had remitted its war debt payment of $1,245,427 to the United States Treasury.

Next Comes Message. After payments and defaults have been reported, the American position for the immediate future will be to wait passively. Until it has been paid—pay—and create better understanding for talk of reconsideration—or default.

In official circles the view is that the developments will play a part in formulating the American position on war debts which President Hoover has promised to send to Congress in it is expected that the committee will recommend that Congress create an agency to study anew the debt situation and its relation with the worldwide economic conditions.

But what course he may suggest in dealing with debtors remains the major interest of Congress.

Major's is on record in opposition to cancellation or reduction of responsible leaders of both parties have said they would not agree to a new debt commission.

The House open appears to be through the committee, which President Roosevelt has put forth the means of hearing the debtors for revision.

By Spectacular Method of Payment Debtor Emphasizes Depletion of Reserves—Could Have Saved $3,000,000.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The British Ambassador, Sir Ronald Lindsay, notified Secretary of the Treasury Mills early today that the British Government has instructed its fiscal agents in New York to make arrangements with the New York Federal Reserve Bank to earmark $95,550,000 in gold for the United States payment of the Dec. 15 instalment of the British war debt.

The order to earmark gold for inter-governmental debt payments was unprecedented. In the past, payments have been made by mere dollar bank credits or in United States bonds.

HOUSE COMMITTEE
FAVORS WINE AND
3.2 PER CENT BEER

Vote to Legalize Manufacture Kept Secret But Was "Overwhelming," Chairman Declares.

TAX ON BEER FIXED
AT $5 A BARREL

All Dispensers of It Will Be Charged License Fee of $1000, Amendment Provides.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The House Ways and Means Committee today ordered reported a bill to legalize the manufacture and sale of 3.2 per cent beer and another bill to legalize the manufacture and sale of wine of an unlimited alcoholic content.

Chairman Collier refused to give out the vote, but said "it was overwhelming."

Representative Rainey of Illinois, the Democratic leader, announced: "We will take the beer bill up in the House next Tuesday."

The beer tax was fixed at $5 a barrel of 31 gallons.

An amendment was adopted providing that all dispensers of beer would be licensed and that the license fee would be $1000.

Collier said the wine bill would be brought up in the House after disposition of the beer measure. He said that Representative Lea (Dem.) of California, leader of the wine bloc, probably would lead the fight for the wine bill.

Some revision of the language of the beer measure is to be made before Collier introduces it in the House.

Immediately after the committee voted to report the measures, committee clerks were directed to begin the drafting of the formal report.

With the exception of the increase in alcoholic content from 2.75 per cent to 3.2, the beer measure is identical with the original Collier proposal.

Rainey estimated that the beer bill if enacted, would produce approximately $200,000,000 in revenue during the first year.

Meanwhile, Speaker Garner said at his press conference that he would not commit himself at this time on whether a general sales tax bill would be undertaken at the short session.

"I have not surveyed the situation," Garner said, when questioned about the Treasury bill. "I have not surveyed the situation."

It is known that the Democrats are relying heavily on revenue from the beer measure to balance the budget.

He gave estimates of $125,000,000 to $150,000,000 a year revenue on beer, while Democratic sponsors of the bill have estimated at $5 a barrel.

The fact that the bill is being introduced at this time is a sign of the confidence of the Democrats in their own strength.

Experts from the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue were called in to the meeting and information was given to the committee.

The committee will probably report the bill by Saturday so as to bring it before the House next Tuesday.

Collier said the bill would be introduced at this time.

HARD TIMES IMPEL MEXICO TO QUIT LEAGUE AND SAVE $60,000 A YEAR DUES

By the Associated Press.

GENEVA, Dec. 15.—NOTICE of withdrawal, effective two years hence, was received by the League of Nations today from Mexico. The notice said financial difficulties were the reason.

The notice said the action was not meant to indicate that Mexico did not desire to cooperate in League activities, but that it was obliged to give notice, under terms of the Covenant, in view of the economic situation.

Mexico City dispatches said the cost of membership in the League, $60,000 to $80,000 annually, was deemed to be too heavy to be borne by the Government. Members of the Chamber of Deputies recently suggested that the money would benefit the country more if used to build roads or maintain schools. Mexico entered the League a little more than a year ago.

CONTEMPT CHARGE

Judge Bases Action on Their Statements in Seeking New Trial of Bordley Will Contest.

CRITICISED THEM IN OVERRULING MOTION

Taking Latest Step on His Own Initiative 'to Maintain Dignity of and Respect for Court.'

Five attorneys who defended the will of Mrs. Blanche Bordley, wealthy widow, in a contest last spring were cited for contempt by Circuit Judge Rutledge for statements made in their motion for a new trial after the will had been set aside by the jury.

The attorneys are Frank A. Thompson, Samuel A. Mitchell and Richmond C. Coburn of the firm of Thompson, Mitchell, Thompson & Young, counsel for the Mercantile-Commerce Bank & Trust Co.; Ernest A. Green and Albert Chandler. The bank was administrator and trustee under the will. Green and Chandler represented certain beneficiaries.

The five lawyers were ordered to appear in court next Tuesday morning to show cause why they should be punished for contempt. Judge Rutledge recently overruled the motion for a new trial and issued a long memorandum referring to the "arrogant, unreasonable and dominant attitude of counsel for the trust company" and criticizing the policy of trust firms of helping to draw up wills in which trusts are left.

Bordley, widow of Daniel C. Bordley, a director of the Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co., bequeathed $300,000 to friends, relatives and charities, then left the residue of an estate estimated to be worth $1,000,000 to $2,750,000 in trust for incurables.

The action of Judge Rutledge is said to be "to maintain the dignity of and respect for the Court." Quoting long sections of the motion for a new trial, the citation charges the defense attorneys with "excessive, contemptuous language" concerning the Court's conduct of the trial. It also complains that Thompson, Mitchell and Coburn prepared copies of the motion "to be delivered to the daily newspapers with the expectation and intention that the matters and things said" be published.

Charges by defense attorneys that the Court was prejudiced in favor of Edward W. Forstet and Harvey B. Cox, attorneys who had the will set aside, statements that Judge Rutledge apologized for rulings against Forstet and Cox and frequently lectured defense attorneys and alleged that the attorneys were unduly influenced by the Court are given as instances of contempt. The motion for a new trial charged that the jurors were disposed to do the Court's will because most of them were unemployed and had been permitted to serve in the Court for extended periods.

The language used in the motion was, according to the citation, "defamatory, abusive and disrespectful to the Court," "tended to reflect on the integrity of the Court and was calculated and intended to bring the Judge into contempt."

Attorney Mitchell, on being informed of the citation, said: "We are not guilty of contempt. We will file a return in due time."

The trial of the will contest, brought by Mrs. Adele L. Tatum, 88 years old of Los Angeles, lasted a month. It was based on allegations of unconsciousness of mind on the part of Mrs. Bordley and undue influence by the Mercantile-Commerce Bank & Trust Co. Mrs. Tatum, who received only a $20,000 trust fund under the will, would receive two-fifths of the estate by division at law, and has a contract to give the Forstet law firm and a Kansas City firm 50 per cent of anything she receives.

Judge Rutledge, who failed to receive the endorsement by the St. Louis Bar Association, was defeated by a Democratic opponent in the recent election.

10 BANKS PROPOSE DRASTIC INTEREST
CUT ON CITY CASH

All Make Same Bid of One-Third Present Rate on Daily Balances.

Ten St. Louis banks, bidding today for the custody of city funds for 1933, made a uniform bid of 1/3 of 1 per cent interest on daily balances, and 1 per cent on six months' deposits. The rate now being paid by the same banks on city funds is 1 1/2 per cent on daily balances and 2 1/2 per cent on six months' deposits.

The city fund commissioners, who are Mayor Miller, Comptroller Nolte and Treasurer Buchner, did not formally award the deposits, but the Mayor told the bank representatives that he would let them know later about the award and the allocation of the money.

The banks which made the uniform bids were the Boatmen's National Bank, Bremen, First National, Lafayette-South Side Bank and Trust Co., Mercantile-Commerce Bank and Trust Co., Mississippi Valley Trust Co., Northwestern Trust Co., United States Bank and Trust Co., Telegraphers' National and South Side National.

City officials had expected that the interest offered would be lower than the present rate, but had hoped as much as 1 per cent might be bid for daily balances. Comptroller Nolte said a low rate was indicated by the recent action of banks in buying Government securities paying as low a rate as 1/2 of 1 per cent.

MAN IN FATAL FIGHT OVER DRAFT PARDONED

One of Three Wisconsin Brothers Who Resisted Posse During World War.

By the Associated Press.
MADISON, Wis., Dec. 15.—Frank Krueger, 52 years old, of Withee, one of three brothers who attracted nationwide attention during the World War by resisting a posse that attempted to take them before a draft board, was granted a conditional pardon from a life sentence by Gov. La Follette yesterday to permit treatment for a mental disorder.

Krueger will be transferred to the Central State Hospital. The State Board of Control is authorized to release him whenever it considers him cured. A condition of the pardon is that Krueger forever be prohibited from carrying firearms. Gov. La Follette called him a "victim of war hysteria."

The other brothers were Ennis and Leslie Krueger. When the three refused to obey orders of the local Draft Board to report for service, Cyril Marks, a Government agent, went to the farm with a posse to take them forcibly. The Kruegers resisted and a fight ensued, in which a member of the posse was killed. Ennis escaped, but was killed two days later by officers who sought to arrest him. Leslie was committed to an asylum.

JAMES A. REED ARGUES FOR HAHATONKA AWARD

In Court Here to Fight Appeal Taken by Builder of Bagnell Dam.

Arguments were heard here yesterday by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in the appeal from a $350,000 award for damages to the Hahatonka estate, Camden County, Mo., in connection with the Bagnell dam construction.

Former United States Senator James A. Reed of Kansas City, chief counsel for the Snyder Estate Co., owner of Hahatonka, argued in favor of sustaining the damages, awarded by a Federal Court jury in Jefferson City on Feb. 3. The appeal was by the Union Electric Light & Power Co., owner of the dam. The Appellate Court took the case under advisement.

About 159 acres of Hahatonka were submerged by the Lake of the Ozarks, formed by the dam, which backed up water in the Osage and Niangua Rivers. The estate company, representing the three sons of the late Robert M. Snyder, Kansas City natural gas operator, claimed $1,000,000 damages.

Reed, in his argument, defended the monetary value of natural beauty, such as that of the Hahatonka country. With the aid of a large colored relief map he painted a word picture of the estate. He told of its crystal-clear streams, stately forests, imposing hills and its natural bridge and other features. Submersion of a part of the land, he declared, destroyed much of the scenic splendor of the place.

Rows of great trees along the banks of the two rivers were cut away before the lake water rose, Reed declared. Of this he said: "Why, they cut down the frame of a beautiful and exquisite picture. They left the stumps of these priceless timbers sticking from the ground, rendering the whole a most unsightly scene except when completely covered by water."

While it is true the estate once was offered for sale to the State for park purposes for $300,000, Reed declared the Snyder family had spent more than $500,000 on improvements there. It was acquired, he added, "at a time when it took a day and a half to drive to it from the nearest railroad." Excellent State highways now are only a few miles away.

Judge William S. Kenyon, former United States Senator from Iowa, presided at the hearing. Ten years ago he and Reed were colleagues in the Senate and, while of opposite political faiths, often were allied in the progressive bloc. The Judge heard much the same eloquence from Reed that he used to hear at the Capitol, though on a different subject. Judges Sanborn and Gardner also participated.

The Rev. Nicholas Lazaris Dies.
By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—The Rev. Dr. Nicholas Lazaris, 58 years old, founder of the first Greek Orthodox Church in the United States, died Tuesday after an illness of eight days. Father Lazaris came to the United States from Greece 30 years ago and founded at Lowell, Mass., the Holy Trinity Greek Church, now the mother church of 250 others. A year later he came to New York and organized this city's first Greek Orthodox Church, of which he was pastor at his death.

DAVID SOMMERS' EXECUTORS LOSE U. S. TAX APPEAL

Board Holds Promises to Leave $250,000 to Shelter Home Fails to Constitute Legal Contract.

Post-Dispatch Bureau, 201-208 Kellogg Bldg. WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Two important tax decisions relating to St. Louis estates were announced yesterday by the Federal Board of Tax Appeals.

In the first decision the board held that the late David Sommers had not made a legal contract when he frequently told friends that he intended to change his will to give Dorothy Drey Sommers Shelter Home, a Jewish institution, $250,000 instead of $35,000.

In the second opinion the board held that the late Sir William Northrup McMillan, a native of St. Louis, had not repatriated himself and that only a relatively small part of his large estate was taxable under American laws.

The Sommers' decision does not agree with that of the Probate Court in St. Louis, which in June, 1928, found that Sommers had intended to leave the Shelter Home $250,000, and authorized the executors to pay that amount to the home.

In the same decision the board also held that Sommers' promise to friends that he would provide for the maintenance of the Shelter Home in his will was not binding; nor was his promise to Mrs. Ida Waldman, the matron, that he would make arrangements in his will for continuing her salary. On the latter point, the board said that Mrs. Waldman had "an adequate remedy at law for any loss sustained" by her arrangement with Sommers.

Sommers' executors, Julius Glaser and Aaron Waldheim, had appealed to the board against a ruling of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, claiming a deficiency of $15,845 in Sommers' estate tax. The Commissioner had claimed that since Sommers' will left only $35,000 to the Shelter Home, the executors could not claim an exemption for the $250,000 given the institution. The board sustained the Commissioner on the point. The executors also appealed to the board on the finding of the Commissioner that $45,000 worth of Missouri real estate should have been included in the estate.

This question has been decided long ago in the negative and the commissioner conceded before the board that the $45,000 should be excluded. Florida real estate, valued at $8845, was included in the estate.

In the McMillan case the Commissioner of Internal Revenue had asserted an estate tax deficiency of $150,846, claiming among other things that McMillan was an American citizen. Among the items which the commissioner said should be included in the estate were: Personal property in England and East Africa valued at $276,780; an acreage fund of $289,845; and a claim against the estate of Eliza McMillan valued at $399,835.

McMillan was born in St. Louis in 1872 and he moved to England in 1899, where he represented an American business firm. In 1903 he went to British East Africa, later known as Kenya Colony, where he acquired large tracts of farming land. He enlisted in the British army during the World War, retiring with the rank of Major. In 1918 he was knighted. He died in 1925. In his will, made in 1915, he described himself as "of St. Louis, in the State of Missouri." In the Federal estate tax return McMillan's permanent residence at the time of his death was set forth as St. Louis, and his "business address" as Nairobi, Kenya Colony.

On the date of his death McMillan's estate was valued at $6,927,327, and included real property in St. Louis worth $82,527; 100 shares in a Missouri corporation worth $334,850 and Liberty bonds and Treasury notes worth $4,098,582. "The board found that McMillan had not repatriated himself after taking an oath of allegiance to the British crown in 1920, and that the mere statement in the will did not constitute repatriation.

"None of the personal property in this country, owned and held by petitioner's decedent at his death," the board held, "was employed by him in business here."

In another part of the decision the board said that this stock had an aggregate value of $371,886.

BROKERS GET $20,000 IN STOCK CRASH CLAIM

H. J. Gray & Co. Obtains Judgment—Defendant in Another Customer's Suit.

The brokerage firm of Herrick J. Gray & Co., 314 North Broadway, obtained a $20,000 judgment yesterday in Circuit Judge Green's court against Harry Epstein, president of the American Sportswear, Inc., 1427 Lucas avenue, on the basis of a stock transaction at the time of the market crash in 1929.

The firm alleged that Epstein had agreed to purchase 600 shares of Cities Service stock at $39.25 a share and 500 shares of Arkansas Natural Gas Co. stock at $20 a share, the money to be paid when the stock was delivered. Delivery was made after the market crash, according to testimony, and the firm sustained a loss when Epstein refused the stock and it had to be sold at market prices. The Cities Service stock was sold at $39 a share and the Arkansas Natural Gas stock at $9.50, witnesses said. Epstein attempted to show that the brokerage house belonged to a pool promoting stocks of Henry L. Doherty & Co. and had guaranteed a market price on the stocks he ordered, both in Doherty's interests. He also sought to show that the stocks were billed by the Doherty firm at a lower rate after the crash and that the brokerage firm's loss was not the amount asked for in the petition. Gray & Co. won a $4703 verdict against another customer last May, in similar circumstances.

Gray & Co. was named as defendant in a suit filed yesterday by Nathan Floom for an accounting. Floom, also a former customer, is being sued by the firm for $51,100 in a stock transaction. He sets forth in his suit he employed the firm Oct. 1, 1929, to purchase 2500 shares of Cities Service common for him at $39.25 a share, but the stock was not tendered until Nov. 4, 1929, and $148,125 was demanded. Floom refused to accept the stock, following which the firm filed suit based on its alleged loss. Floom asserts it developed, instead of suffering a loss, the firm made a profit of $41,250 and asks that it be enjoined from prosecuting the suit against him until an accounting has been made.

SAYS U. S. APPROVED LAUSANNE ACCORD

Chamberlain So Informs Commons—Lloyd George for 'No Parley, No Pay.'

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Dec. 15.—In the course of his review of the debt situation in the House of Commons yesterday, Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, said that the action of the European nations at Lausanne was taken with the cognizance and approval of the United States. After mentioning the joint communique issued in Washington when former Premier Pierre Laval of France visited President Hoover in 1931, the Chancellor said: "The United States Government indicated also to our Ambassador, Sir Ronald Lindsay, that if the European Powers devised a reasonable reparations settlement, this would be the best method of approach with a view to revision of the war debts due the United States. That is an important matter because it is justification of the statement in the recent British note that the initiative taken by the European Powers at Lausanne was taken with the cognizance and approval of the United States."

There was considerable criticism of the manner in which the Government has sought revision of debts during the Commons debate. Winston Churchill attacked Premier MacDonald's linking of Great Britain's case with that of France. "To be forced to link our case with France would be disaster; but to want to do it was the acme of ineptitude and the quintessence of maladresse."

At another point, he said: "Writing notes to the United States is like writing notes to the Atlantic Ocean."

Chamberlain referred to sectional differences of opinion on the debts in the United States, declaring Great Britain would "enter into negotiations for revision with arguments which, indeed, might not appeal to the Middle West, as one member has said, but would appeal to the more responsible and more informed section of opinion in the United States."

David Lloyd George, Liberal leader, spoke of the mother of Parliaments "gibbering away" on unimportant matters while millions of her gold were taken to another land. Emphasizing that he was against default, he declared had he controlled events and America had refused to discuss a new settlement before demanding resumption of payments, he would have done as the French Parliament had done—he would have said "no parley, no pay."

Lloyd George remarked that "we are paying the heaviest burden of taxation in the world per head of our population. We have made the greatest sacrifices in money to save the liberty of the world, and we must be heard."

OLD CHICAGO AUDITORIUM IS REOPENED FOR BENEFIT
Former Center of Grand Opera Redecorated at Cost of $125,000 and Used Again.
By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—The old Auditorium Theater, the first home of Chicago grand opera, was used again last night for a concert to benefit unemployed musicians. The performance was sponsored by the Bohemians, a fellowship organization.

The Auditorium was filled with leaders of society and business. Many old opera-goers occupied seats they held during the golden era of the theater before the $20,000,000 Civic Opera House, built by Samuel Insull's efforts, became the center for the grand opera.

The Civic Opera has been suspended this year, because of economic conditions. Meantime the Mark Witting estate, which obtained ownership of the Auditorium, spent $125,000 refurbishing it. Announcement has been made of an invitation to the Metropolitan Opera company to perform there this winter.

The Auditorium was built more than 45 years ago.

were passed without a time limit. The city employees were willing to accept the reductions, but wanted a two-year limit.

The attitude of the bankers was said to be based on the view that the city's bonds would have no sale unless the economies which they recommended were brought about, including salary reductions for an indefinite period.

Gov. Roosevelt tried to compare the differences between the bankers and the city employees. Frequently he talked by telephone with city officials.

York State yesterday borrowed $30,400,000 half of which will be for care of the State's jobless, the lowest interest rate in the State's history.

Chase Harris Forbes Corporation of New York City, successful bidder, offered to take the State bonds and charge only 3.273 percent interest. This rate on the bonds, some of which do not mature until 1932, is appreciably lower than the previous low of 3.28 percent the State paid on a bond issue of $40,000,000 last year.

SCHOOL REVENUE IS HARD HIT BY TAX DELINQUENCY

Offset by Dropping Construction Program and Other Economies, Finance Chairman Reports.

Delinquency of taxes has caused a reduction of Board of Education revenue which has been offset by dropping the school construction program and by other economies, Arthur S. Werremeyer, chairman of the finance committee, has reported to the board.

The board's account of delinquent taxes, as of Dec. 1, amounted to $2,759,877, according to Auditor Daly. On the same date a year ago the delinquency was $2,297,903. In the five months since the school fiscal year began there had been receipts of $683,624 in back taxes, compared with $642,280 in the same period last year.

Collections of current school taxes for 1932 were $798,654 up to Tuesday. Up to the same date last year the collections had been $1,070,001. This year's school tax levy is about $10,039,128 and whatever remains unpaid after Dec. 31 will become delinquent. Last year, the receipts up to Dec. 31 were $4,022,612, out of a levy of $11,287,497. The board fears that only $7,700,000 or less of this year's levy may be collected by next June 30.

Pay Curtailment Helps.
Chairman Werremeyer said the 10 per cent curtailment of pay for this fiscal year taken by all school employees had been sufficient to offset the 10 per cent reduction in the St. Louis real estate assessment ordered by the State Board of Equalization. The school tax rate of 85 cents on the $100 valuation is lower than most cities pay for education, he declared.

Within the past year the board has dedicated four new buildings—Hadley Vocational School and the Woerner, Gundiach and Cole schools—Werremeyer recalled. He pointed out that the board had been erecting schools out of current income for many years, except for a $3,000,000 bond issue of 1917 necessitated by war conditions. Only $2,007,000 of these bonds are outstanding, and Werremeyer predicted that the issue would be retired entirely within five years more. There is a sinking fund holding $1,208,270 in City of St. Louis and State of Missouri bonds, offsetting all but $798,730 of the outstanding school bonds.

High Schools Overcrowded.
Members of the board have been discussing the possibility that a new bond issue may be needed within a few years, for more buildings. There is no surplus available in the board's funds for construction and none in prospect for the near future. Officials believe there is plenty of accommodation in the grade schools, but the high schools are overcrowded. To remedy the overcrowding, temporarily, the board has approved a proposal of Superintendent Gerling for branch high schools. Use of vacant rooms in some elementary schools for the lower grade of high school work also is under consideration.

In his report, Werremeyer said: "The board continues to develop the school system, to uphold its standards and to give the city a superior school service uninterrupted by financial depression. It is remarkable that while many school systems are floundering in debt, appealing to public and private agencies for help, shortening the school terms, paying employees with tax warrants instead of cash, the St. Louis schools have been operated on a cash basis without a deficit, and with a cash balance on Dec. 1 of $600,000 more than that of a year ago. Better still, no essential part of the school system has been discontinued."

MRS. MARY THOMAS DIES OF INFIRMITIES OF AGE

Widow of Wagonmaker Lived in Carondelet 73 Years; Succumbs at 90.

Mrs. Mary Thomas, who lived in Carondelet for 73 years, died yesterday of infirmities of age at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Anna Tesson, 412 Fannie avenue, Luxembourg. She was 90 years old. She married Joseph Thomas Sr. at Matteson, on the Lemay Ferry road, her birthplace, in 1859, and moved to Carondelet the day after her marriage. Thomas, who was a wagonmaker, died four years ago at the age of 86.

She is survived by five daughters, two sons, 50 grandchildren, 75 great-grandchildren, and three great-great-grandchildren. Each year, on the second Sunday of August, a family reunion was held, and owing to the size of the family it was necessary to rent a hall for the gathering.

Mrs. Thomas' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kemp, came to America from Germany in the early '40s. Her mother and father met and were married on the boat coming over. Her father was one of the first blacksmiths in St. Louis County.

Funeral services will be held Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock at St. Andrew's Church, 301 Hoffmeister avenue, St. Louis County, of which she was a founder, with burial in Mount Olive Cemetery.

Plea for Receiver Dismissed.
A stockholder's petition asking for appointment of a receiver for the H. P. Coffee Co., 3000 Clark avenue, was dismissed yesterday by the petitioner, Walter H. Petring, one of the founders of the business.

WARY CAPITOL GUARDS STOP IOWA CONGRESSMAN-ELECT

Doorkeepers on Alert Since Youth Held Up House With Pistol, Demanding to Be Heard.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Otha D. Wearin, 23-year-old Representative-elect from Iowa, had a lot of trouble getting into the Capitol yesterday. Wearing a red necktie, tan shirt and dark brown suit, Wearin was blocked by Capitol guards wherever he sought to enter. The doorkeepers were unusually cautious because of the episode Tuesday when a youth held the house at pistol point demanding the floor to make a speech.

Even when Wearin produced his campaign cards, he had to stand by while guards looked up the records. "I served two terms in the Iowa State Legislature," Wearin said, "but even out there I've never been suspected so much in one day as I was here."

"MOIST THROAT" AIDS COUGH RELIEF

Your throat and bronchial tubes are lined with millions of pores like tiny canals continually supplying moisture to the delicate tissues... until you catch cold.
Then these "bottles" get plugged up, mucus accumulates, affording danger-ous germs a breeding place. Your throat feels hot and dry. Tickling, irritation and coughing set in.
Your cough will be cured only when the flow of the natural fluid is increased, loosening the phlegm so that it can be expelled. Many cough "remedies" contain numbing drugs which merely deaden the nerves... but don't get at the root of the trouble.
PIRUSIN, a scientific remedy, which doctors have prescribed for many years, is the extract of a famous herb which opens the tiny glands, stimulates the flow of the throat's natural moisture and brings quick relief. It helps nature heal that awful cough from the inside out.
When you feel that warning dryness take a few sips of PIRUSIN. It's absolutely safe. Sold at all drug stores, 60¢.

GEORGIA FUGITIVE FROM CHAIN GANG ARRESTED AGAIN

Robert Elliott Burns, Author of Story, of Which Movie Was Made, Seized in Newark, N. J.

By the Associated Press
NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 15.—Robert Elliott Burns, author of the real life story, "I Am a Fugitive From a Georgia Chain Gang," of which a currently successful motion picture was made, was arrested here last night.
Counsel for Burns promised a fight against extradition and word was awaited from Gov. A. Harry Moore of New Jersey as to what action he would take. Gov. Moore was quoted as having told the fugitive he would aid him when and if necessary.
Burns had made no effort to hide. He was known to have been in New Jersey for two years and there had been no request for his arrest.

Judge Vivian L. Stanley, a member of the Georgia Prison Commission, said at Atlanta last night that he had furnished Newark police with fingerprints of Burns about two weeks ago. He said a requisition would be forwarded to New Jersey immediately.
In Newark Since Sept. 7, 1930, Burns came here from Pittsburgh, Sept. 7, 1930, only a few days after he escaped from the Troup County (Ga.) prison camp, and has lived in this vicinity since. He worked on a Newark newspaper until it stopped publication. Then he found other jobs, among them that of a dynamiter at a copper refinery in Chicago. After that, he decided to write his experiences and the book and motion picture dealing with the Georgia prison system followed.

He now operates a small store in East Orange, and before his arrest was a familiar figure in downtown Newark where he was taken into custody.
Interviewed by a newspaper last Sunday, he expressed the hope of obtaining a pardon.
"I wish to be a free man once more," he was quoted as saying, "and be able to hold my head high in any part of the United States. I'm still a fugitive from a Georgia chain gang, but believe me, it's an empty honor."

He recited his experiences to the reporter, retelling many of the incidents he had written about, but said the most dramatic moment in his life was meeting another escaped convict in Newark, April 1, 1931.
The other fugitive was John Moore, who with Burns and a third man, held up a grocery in Atlanta, Ga., in 1921. The three were captured and Burns was sentenced from six to 10 years. He escaped in 1922 and was free until 1929.

Misadventure in Chicago.
After his first break, he chose Chicago as a place to live and became a success as a magazine publisher. He married but later fell in love with another woman and asked his wife for a separation. She agreed, but in time asked for more alimony. When he refused, the story goes, she notified Georgia authorities and Burns was arrested in 1920.

A long legal fight followed, with high Chicago officials taking an interest in the case. Burns said he waived extradition finally when Georgia officials promised him a pardon within 60 days if he would return. But the pardon was denied and a new fight for freedom began, with the brother, the Rev. Vincent Burns, taking an active part. The brothers declare the Georgia prison Commission told them if the prisoner's conduct was good for a year his pardon would be only a matter of routine. There was a hearing in July, 1930, from which no word came for weeks. The next news was that Burns had escaped again.

The small 125-pound fugitive—a prisoner once more—is 41 years old.
Charles Handler, Burns' lawyer, and the Rev. Mr. Burns, visited the prisoner at Police Headquarters before he was put behind bars for the night.
Burns was held in $25,000 bail today to await extradition.

Joseph E. Bachelder Funeral.
The funeral of Joseph E. Bachelder, former manager of the St. Louis branch of Fairbanks, Morse & Co., who went from St. Louis to the home office of the company in Chicago about three years ago, died Monday of pneumonia. He was 55 years old. He is survived by his widow, a son and two daughters.

For lazy liver, stomach, biliousness, indigestion and headache due to constipation and as a laxative in colds and fever.

TWO SENTENCED TO DIE IN INSURANCE MURDER

Oklahoma Farmer, With Nephew, Pleaded Guilty of Killing Bride, 16.

By the Associated Press
MULFORD, Ok., Dec. 15.—Claude Oliver, 28 years old, a farmer, and his 15-year-old nephew, George Oliver, were sentenced to death in the electric chair yesterday after pleading guilty to murdering Claude Oliver's 15-year-old bride to collect a $5000 insurance policy.
Judge W. G. Long, in pronouncing sentence, said there were no mitigating circumstances to justify any punishment less than the extreme penalty. County Attorney E. W. Fagan said the crime was "the most outrageous I have seen in my 56 years of law practice."

Sheriff Ross Johnson and two Bank of Louisiana, Mo., Reopens.
JEFFERSON CITY, Dec. 15.—The Mercantile Bank of Louisiana, Mo., which closed last Aug. 10, was reopened today, following a reorganization. Before the closing of the bank had deposits of $287,203, resources of $434,487, and a capital stock of $500,000. E. B. Reineking, president of the bank and W. A. Reineking, cashier.

NEWLY-ELECTED LEGISLATOR CONVICTED OF ATTACK ON GIRL

Seattle Jury Out 24 Hours After Hearing Story of 12-Year-Old Child.

SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 15.—N. G. Robinson, 27 years old, Democratic State Representative-elect, was convicted by a Superior Court jury yesterday of an offense against Marjorie Rowley, who said she was 12 years old. The jury, which had deliberated about 24 hours, recommended leniency.

Robinson, in the county jail Nov. 8 when elected to the Legislature, was accused of attacking the girl Oct. 7. She testified he picked her up in Woodland Park, where she was playing with other children, took her for a motor car ride and attacked her. Robinson denied the charge and said he would appeal.

YOUTH, 19, KILLS FOSTER PARENTS ASLEEP IN BEDS

He Tells Police He Could Not Bear to See Incurably Ill Mother Suffer Any Longer.

By the Associated Press.

NEWTON, Mass., Dec. 15.—A half hour after Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jonah of the Newtonville district had been found murdered in their beds today, police said their 19-year-old adopted son, Robert, confessed the crime.

For two years Robert Jonah, who had been adopted when he was two years old, had devoted his entire time to caring for his foster mother, who was suffering from an incurable disease. He told police, they said, that he could not bear to see the woman who had been so kind to him suffer any longer, so he killed her with a hammer.

He then killed her husband to save him the mental anguish his wife's death would cause, police quoted the boy as saying.

Almost seven hours after the killings, Robert Jonah threw the neighborhood into a state of excitement when he rushed into a market clad only in his pajamas and cried out that he had been hurt. Both his wrists had been slashed and his left wrist was broken.

Police took him to Newton Hospital, where he told what had taken place at the Jonah home. They hurried there and found Jonah, 58 years old, and his wife, Amanda, 60, dead. Each had been beaten with a hammer and their throats slashed with a razor.

YOUNG'S ATTACKS EIGHT-YEAR PLAN FOR PHILIPPINES

Maryland Senator Says Freedom So Soon Would Make Payment of Debts Impossible.

ISLANDS STILL OWE
$65,000,000 IN U. S.

Move Is Made to Reconsider
Vote by Which Broussard Amendment to Bill Was Passed.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Opening the second week of Senate debate on Philippine independence, Senator Tydings (Dem.), Maryland, today attacked the eight-year plan adopted yesterday by the Senate to pay off the Philippines' debts in this country.

He was confident from the long state that the Senate favored independence for the islands and that the question was now "brought down to the time between granting of independence in a bill and its actual consummation."

One of the conditions of the bill which the Senate rejected yesterday in adopting the eight-year plan, he said, was that the islands should pay off their remaining debt of $65,000,000 in this country.

Urges Reconsideration.
He said that with an annual budget of only $20,000,000 a year, it would require half their revenue to pay the debt and take all the time and in addition they would lose their freedom of export to the United States.

Urging reconsideration of the bill approving freedom eight years later, he said that the islands would be "absolute beggars" in the islands at the end of the third year.

"Riots and revolution would break out," he warned, "and we would have to intervene and go over the islands again to independence."

Tydings said to free the islands in eight years and take all the time away from them after this would aggravate the Far Eastern situation.

Would Insure Success.
"It is not better," he said, "to have two or three years to this but the interest of world commerce and to make sure that this young nation will be strong enough to walk on its own legs before we let go of the hands."

"I want to make sure that when I say good-bye to the Philippines they will be able to take care of themselves."

By 40 to 38, the Senate yesterday voted to free the Philippines in eight years, but then became involved in a parliamentary tangle and a motion to reconsider.

The decision gave approval to the amendment by Senator Broussard (Dem., Louisiana), striking the eight out of the Hawes-Cutting bill granting independence in 18 years.

He created such confusion that the speaker of independence now do look for a final vote until the end of the week.

OVER TO CONTINUE TO SEND APPOINTMENTS TO SENATE

Senators to Ignore Decision of Democracy Not to Confirm Any of His Selections.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—President Hoover has determined to ignore the decision of Senate Democrats not to confirm any of his appointments, and will continue to send nominations to the Senate as they come.

One of the President's aids, Theodore Joslin, said today that Hoover would "continue to select appropriate men to fill existing vacancies whose names might occur in the future."

Several major vacancies remain unfilled. One vacant post exists in the Federal Reserve Board, and on the Power Commission several judgeships are open.

Advices Cut in Coal Rates.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Executive Order of the Interstate Commerce Commission has recommended reductions in freight rates on Western Kentucky coal to Mississippi and Kansas through East St. Louis and St. Louis. He recommended a rate through East St. Louis to be reduced by more than 40 cents a ton and through St. Louis more than 62 cents, asserting that rates are prejudicial to Western Illinois and Belleville.

Post for Wabash Receiver.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The Interstate Commerce Commission today authorized Walter S. Egan, St. Louis, receiver of the Wabash Railroad, to hold the position of director of the Lehigh Valley Railroad. He will serve in this capacity as long as he is receiver of the Wabash, or until further notice of the commission.

Joint Transportation Committee Has Open Mind on P. S. C. Offer; Calls for Further Suggestions

Has Not Yet Considered What Kind of Transit Service City Should Have, Whether Street Cars or Busses.

The present discussions between representatives of the city and the Public Service Co.'s security holders are incidental to the move started by the Board of Aldermen in 1928 to improve the local transportation situation.

The only official action thus far of consequence significance was the adoption by the board last summer of a report of a subcommittee enunciating the policy of municipal ownership as the way to development of an adequate, city-wide transit system. This report was drafted, after extensive hearings, with the assistance of former Congressman Cleveland A. Newton, acting as special counsel.

After adopting that report the Board of Aldermen designated three of its members—Aldermen Edward W. Wiehe, William J. Studt and Louis Fischer—to sit with the Board of Estimates and Apportionment as a joint committee to work out plans for making the policy effective. Mayor Miller, Comptroller Nolte and President Neun of the Board of Aldermen are the members of the Board of Estimates.

Suggestion for Sale.
This Joint Committee decided early in its proceedings, to ask the Public Service Co., for its views as to the sale of its street railways and bus lines to the city for a municipal system. A committee of six representatives of the company's security holders answered with a suggestion for sale of the properties to the city for annual payments of $3,107,000 for 30 years, equal to a price $45,000,000 plus interest on deferred payments.

A subcommittee studied this proposal, recommended it be rejected as it was—and set $25,000,000 as the maximum that should be considered as a purchase price for the street railways and bus lines, including the People's Motorbus Co. The joint committee voted to discard the $25,000,000 figure in further discussions.

The matter stood still for months until a suggestion of downtown property owners and merchants called for action. This resulted in the authorization of three representatives of the city's Joint Committee to meet with three from the security holders' group to continue the discussions. The first meeting of the six conferees was that of last Tuesday, at which the company representatives sketched a rather nebulous plan for turning the property over to the city for a share of earnings during a term of years.

This plan, the significance of which will be examined a little later, is actually the only specific proposal before the Joint Committee, Alderman Wiehe, its chairman, said in an interview with a Post-Dispatch reporter.

Form of Transportation.
Wiehe was asked if the committee had ever considered what form of transportation the city should have; whether street cars, busses or other means would be best suited for the future. He replied that the committee had not undertaken to decide this question, although it has gathered much information on it.

"The Joint Committee has an open mind," Wiehe said. "We were all elected by the people and we want to do what is best for the whole city. So far, the proposal of the Public Service Co. group is the only one actually presented before us. We would welcome suggestions or plans from other citizens or groups. We are not committed to any plan. What looks good today may not appear so well tomorrow."

Wiehe said that now that the project of acquiring the street railways had been brought forward, he expected the Conference Committee to deal with it promptly to see if it is advisable and possible to agree on some plan to take over all or part of the company's property.

Only a sketchy outline of the plan in the minds of the security holders' representatives was disclosed Tuesday. In general, it provided:

Title to the system to be transferred to the city.

The property to be cleared of all present mortgages or obligations except liability for current damage claims.

The city to pay to the company for the benefit of the security holders a percentage of the earnings above operating costs for a term of years.

How Each Might Fare.
From the discussions at the meeting and from the company's annual reports it is possible to gain some idea of how each party would fare under this arrangement.

By the transfer of title to the city, under existing laws, the system no longer would be subject to property and income taxes. Total taxes paid in 1931 were $1,450,386, of which $1,239,405 went to the City of St. Louis and the city schools; $134,464 to St. Louis County and $85,717 to the State. As the company showed a net loss it paid no income taxes.

The plan contemplates that the city would receive about the same percentage of the revenue above operating expenses as is now computed by the toll taxes paid. This would leave the city in as good a position as at present, but the loss of taxes no doubt would be a serious matter to County and State.

Current damage claims, that is claims not settled, would be a substantial liability to be assumed by the city. The exact amount, of course, would have to be computed at the time of transfer of title, but at the close of 1931 the company's report showed 2739 suits not yet settled. The average cost a suit settled that year was $564. Applying the same average to the pending suits showed a possible contingent liability of $1,517,406. Costs for injuries and damages arising after transfer to the city would, of course, be part of the current operating expense.

It is evident the company hopes it would continue to receive about the same percentage as now of revenue above operating expenses. This is from 60 to 65 per cent. This is the money from which the company now pays interest to its security holders and other creditors, pays dividends, if any, and sets aside a depreciation fund.

Possibility of U. S. Loan.
It was proposed that if $35,000,000 or $50,000,000 should be borrowed from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to build a downtown subway the interest and amortization cost of that loan, estimated at $400,000 a year, be placed ahead of the division of earnings.

It is estimated the company's earnings above direct operating cost this year will be about $4,300,000. Under the plan the city would get about 25 per cent, or a little more than $1,000,000 (and no taxes), and the company would get about $2,786,000. This would be nearly $1,000,000 more than enough to pay interest on the company's debts.

The company's plan, however, did not suggest a definite ratio for division of earnings. It left the question open, as it did the term of years. It was suggested that if the city acquired the property and improved it, earnings might increase to the advantage of both parties. The opposite has been the experience of the company for several years.

Trend Toward Busses.
Some members of the Joint Transportation Committee have taken notice of the possibility of busses may soon be the prevailing mode of urban transportation. In the report prepared by C. A. Newton last summer for the committee, which resulted in adoption of the municipal ownership policy, it was pointed out that for $18,000,000 enough modern busses could be purchased to provide as many seats as are now provided by street cars. These busses presumably could be bought on some kind of a time payment plan.

President Neun of the Board of Aldermen has repeatedly referred to this in committee discussions and has said that any proposed subway should be considered as a possible avenue for busses rather than street cars.

The report of a subcommittee recommending rejection of the $43,000,000 price asked for the street railways said: "The acknowledged trend to busses will occasion additional abandonment of present trackage, if the desires of the public are to be met and adequate service is to be offered."

Secretary Meyers of the present conference committee published an analysis of the transportation situation in which he said: "With changes taking place in mass transportation as rapidly as they are today, if the city finds itself compelled to go into the transportation business it might be less expensive to start fresh rather than take over a run-down property with heavy deferred maintenance as was done in Detroit."

Richard W. Meade, formerly general manager of the People's Motorbus Co., said that busses could take care of the entire mass transportation requirements of St. Louis.

LEAGUE COMMITTEE APPROVES PLAN ON FAR EAST DISPUTE

Terms of Proposed Settlement Communicated to Chinese and Japanese Delegations.

By the Associated Press.
GENEVA, Dec. 15.—The Conciliation Committee of 19 of the League of Nations assembly today unanimously approved the report of its Drafting Committee for settlement of the Chinese-Japanese dispute, and communicated its terms to the Chinese and Japanese delegations.

These two principals had been sounded out unofficially before the meeting so that the draft resolution could be made as moderate as possible and still be assured of acceptance. A poll of those who drafted it indicated that all were agreed that the method of conciliation was the only one possible.

Although all the 19 members said they had been pledged to secrecy, it was generally thought that the United States and Soviet Russia would be asked to join in the work of conciliation. There was some doubt as to whether they would accept. One version of the plan evolved was that both those countries would be requested to co-operate with a special committee of the League Assembly charged with the actual conciliation process.

'PROHIBITION IS IN DANGER,' DR. WILSON'S REPORT SAYS

Secretary of Methodist Board Predicts 'A Terrible Reaction.'

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Dr. Clarence True Wilson, in his report as secretary of the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals of the Methodist Episcopal Church, made public today, said "prohibition is in grave danger" but declared it was due to "capture of organizations and educational agencies by the wets" and predicted "a terrible reaction."

The board has just concluded its annual meeting here. Primary responsibility for maintenance of temperance "rests definitely upon the Christian Church," the report said, "and prohibition presents the only legislative situation conducive to the success of temperance teaching."

The board called for every local church to organize in defense of prohibition.

In his report, Wilson expressed his opinion that President-elect Roosevelt "is conscientious in his views and a man of high ideals."

"We will find ourselves in direct conflict with him over prohibition," he said, "but it will be the open, on the square, and carry no personal implications."

GERMAN EMPLOYMENT FUND
Cabinet Sets Aside $300,000,000 for Creating Jobs.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, Dec. 15.—The German Cabinet today set aside 1,500,000,000 marks (about $300,000,000) for creating jobs. Of this sum, 990,000,000 marks was left over from the employment program of former Chancellor von Papen. According to the newspaper Tagblatt, the balance will be supplied by the Reichsbank.

The method of increasing employment will be disclosed in an emergency decree in a few days.

ALLOTMENT PLAN IS INDORSED BY FARM SPOKESMAN

Witness Says Plan Being Considered by House Agriculture Committee Will Draw Support.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Farm spokesmen told the House Agriculture Committee today they thought the voluntary domestic allotment relief plan "would prove so helpful that the farmer would be willing to cast his lot in support of it."

The statement was made by Frederick T. Lee, the representative of many national groups that have joined in supporting the allotment relief principle. He made it at the beginning of his second day on the stand and attendance at the hearing was so great the committee was forced to seek larger quarters.

Chairman Jones, who has drafted an allotment bill differing in some essentials from that proposed by the farm groups, opened the hearing by thanking the agricultural leaders for uniting behind one plan.

Great Help to Committee.
"I don't know whether the committee will be able to go along in full with the program suggested," Jones said, "but it will be a great help to the committee in its work to have this unanimous agreement of the farm groups."

Asked whether he thought farmers generally would be willing to volunteer their support of the plan which would apply to four great staple commodities—wheat, cotton, tobacco and hogs—Lee replied:

"We believe the benefits will prove so helpful that the farmer will be willing to cast his lot in support of it. We think all producers will be attracted, but if the farmer does not fulfill the 20 per cent acreage reduction in 1933 he will have no benefits."

What the Plan Proposes.
Under the proposed plan the farmer would be paid an amount above the world price on his percentage of production of the domestic commodity that would be necessary to bring the purchasing power of the crop to its pre-war level. The entire system would be administered by the Agriculture Department, and not by the Farm Board.

The question of disposition of the Farm Board was raised by Representative Anderson (Rep., Minnesota).

"Do you favor abolishment of the Farm Board?" Anderson asked.

"We want the preservation of all that is good in the act, that is all except the stabilization provisions," Lee replied, "but we are not interested in the administrative agency."

"We want such features as the co-operative and educational work continued. But whether they are continued under the board or the Secretary of Agriculture, the farm leaders do not feel concerned. We would like that question to the new administration."

BILL WOULD PERMIT VETERANS TO SELL BONUS CERTIFICATES

Measure Offered in House Stipulates Buyers Must Pay Off United States Loans on Them.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Legislation to authorize veterans to sell their bonus certificates providing the buyer pays off loans advanced on them by the Government was proposed in the House today by Representative Bachmann of West Virginia.

Bachmann, Republican whip, said the measure was his individual idea. He said it "will give the veterans the immediate benefit of their certificates; cease agitation for cash payment of the bonus, and return more than $1,500,000,000 to the Federal Treasury."

"The certificates belong to the veterans and they should be permitted to dispose of them as they wish," Bachmann told newspapermen.

The present law prohibits banks and individuals from taking over the service certificates.

New President of Switzerland.
BERNE, Switzerland, Dec. 15.—Edmund Schulthess was elected president of Switzerland today by the Federal Assembly. He will hold office for one year. He moves up from the office of vice-president, as is the custom. The Federal Assembly elected Marcel Pilet-Golaz vice-president.

SHAW SUGGESTS 'GIVE IRELAND TO U. S. TO LIQUIDATE DEBTS'

Leaving London, Says, "I Intend

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Dec. 15.—Bernard Shaw's farewell fest to London as he left today with Mrs. Shaw, for the south of France to join a round-the-world liner, was "Give Ireland to the United States and liquidate all the war debts."

The Shaws will visit the Holy Land, India, Siam, China and America.

"I intend traveling around the world without giving a single autograph," Shaw told a girl who held out an autograph book to him at Victoria Station.

Tells Italian Senate That Belgrade "Better Not Forget" the Importance of Exports.

By the Associated Press.
ROME, Dec. 15.—Commercial reprisals for acts of "anti-Italian vandalism" in Trau and other Jugo-Slavian cities, were intimated by Premier Mussolini in a reply in the Senate yesterday to an interpellation.

"Jugo-Slavia had better not forget that her commercial relations with Italy constitute the most important point of her exports," he said.

He added that the "vandalism" provoked the "resentment of every civilized country in the world," and that this was not an isolated instance but a continuous program showing open hostility to Italy and operated on a precise and inspired plan.

Mussolini also told the Senate that the Italian Minister in Belgrade had protested against the dynamiting in Trau of several statues considered to be relics of the Venetian dominance in Jugo-Slavia.

Mussolini is thought to have referred to France when he said "a no less grave responsibility falls on other elements I shall call European who vainly hope to disturb our equilibrium by unchanging a clamorous press campaign."

Before the Senate meeting Fascist leaders ordered students to stop their anti-Jugo-Slav demonstrations while the Senate prepared the interpellation to the Government on "violence perpetrated against living and dead Italians in Jugo-Slavia."

Thousands of soldiers and police guarded the Jugo-Slav legation, and a cordon of soldiers and police was thrown around the French embassy. Earlier this week students and adults in a number of Italian cities participated in anti-Jugo-Slav demonstrations.

Herrin Star Is Named as Most Valuable Player in "Big Eleven"

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

HERRIN, Ill., Dec. 15.—With their thoughts on future campaigns, university football coaches of the Middle West are wondering where Louis "Mud" Bona of Herrin will attend college.

A natural football player if there ever was one, is the unanimous opinion of those who have watched this chunky Herrin backfield man in action. In selecting him as the most valuable individual player in the Big Eleven, coaches agreed that he was the best open field runner, best forward passer and best punter in the conference.

Only 5 feet, 5 inches tall, and weighing 145 pounds, Bona is nevertheless one of the most rugged athletes ever turned out in these parts.

For the past four years he has participated in all his school's games without losing any time on account of injuries; and the opposition has been unable to get him out of the game for the past three years. His father is a coal miner.

This is Bona's third year on the all-conference team. Last year he was selected on the all-state of Illinois, and it is a foregone conclusion that he will repeat this year. He kicks with his left foot and passes with his left hand, and how he does both!

On the track, he runs the century in 10 seconds flat and broad jumps 22 feet 3 inches. On the diamond he is an A-1 southpaw pitcher. But on the football field he does everything.

Is it any wonder that the college coaches are on his trail?

BUTLER RALLIES TO TRIM TIGER BASKETBALL FIVE

By the Associated Press.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 15.—Rallying in the last period, Butler University's basketball team defeated the University of Missouri quintet, 30 to 23, in a fast, rough game here last night.

The two teams battled on even terms throughout the first half with the score tied at 16 all at the intermission.

Early in the second period a rally led by Miller, Missouri guard, enabled his team to take the lead for a few minutes. The advantage was submerged, however, under a blistering barrage by Parrish and Proffitt, Butler guards, and the Bulldogs coasted to victory.

A beleaguered rally by Miller and Cooper, Tiger guard and forward, respectively, fell short when the Butler guards turned loose their assault on the basket, each scoring two baskets apiece in the closing minutes of play.

Wagner, captain and center, for the Tigers, was a tower of strength at the pivot post, securing the tip-off from Demmay and Proffitt, the majority of the game. Cooper, all Big Six Conference forward and high scorer, led the visitors offensively, scoring seven of his team's total points. Denver Miller, Missouri guard, also hit the hoop for seven points.

The game was Missouri's second meeting with Butler, having dropped a 38 to 25 decision to the Bulldogs in 1928.

BOARD OF REFORMED CHURCH OBJECTS TO MISSIONS REPORT

Does Not Accept Recommendation That Non-Christian Religions Not Be Destroyed.

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—The Board of Foreign Missions of the Reformed Church in America issued a statement yesterday in which it dissented from the "basis" of the laymen's foreign missions inquiry report, but in doing so it did not repudiate its recommendations as to method.

Lay members of the church constituted one of the seven denominational groups of laymen who financed and conducted the inquiry, recently concluded.

"Our aim," said the statement, "is nothing less than the establishing of the religion of Jesus as the final and universal religion."

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

while the report distinctly encourages the missionaries to look forward, not to the destruction of these religions (non-Christian), but to their continued co-existence with Christianity, each stimulating the other in growth toward the ultimate goal, unity in the complete religious truth.

"Having firm faith in the ultimacy of Jesus Christ, we cannot accept as a substitute, or an alternative, for our present aim the recommendation of the report of a syncretistic goal as an object of missionary endeavor."

URGES STATE TO CUT AUTO LICENSE FEE

Roy Britton Appears Before Citizens' Road Committee; No Action Taken.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Dec. 15.—The Citizens' Road Committee of Missouri, which is making a study of the State highway system and future highway needs of the State, took no action here yesterday on suggestion from the Automobile Club of Missouri that some action be taken by the 1933 Legislature to reduce the State automobile license fee.

The suggestion was referred to a subcommittee, which will report to the entire committee at its meeting here on Jan. 14. The subcommittee includes Hugh Stephens of Jefferson City, former member of the State Highway Commission; Charles Diehl of St. Louis, George Catlin of Kansas City, and C. B. Brown of Jefferson City, Assistant Chief State Highway Engineer.

The proposal was offered by Roy F. Britton of St. Louis, president of the Automobile Club of Missouri and chairman of the Citizens' Road Committee. The board of directors of the Automobile Club, meeting Monday in St. Louis, voted to approve the initiative proposition. In the license fees, but did not suggest how much the fees should be reduced. The fees were increased 50 per cent in 1924, through an initiative proposition, in connection with establishment of the 2-cent-a-gallon gasoline tax to finance expansion of the Missouri road building program.

Britton told the committee he believed a reduction of the fees would result in increase use of automobiles and fewer attempts to evade the license fee.

HEARING FOR ACCUSED SLAYER OF YACHT CAPTAIN MONDAY

W. J. Guy Arraigned Before Crowded Courtroom on Murder Charge at Long Beach, Cal.

By the Associated Press. LONG BEACH, Calif., Dec. 15.—William James (Curly) Guy, 24-year-old Welsh adventurer, faced a crowded courtroom yesterday for arraignment on a charge of killing Capt. Walter Anderson, 35, globe-trotter. Preliminary hearing was set for Monday morning.

Guy is charged with shooting Anderson the night of Dec. 5 aboard his yacht, the "Carnegie," on the eve of his departure on another world cruise.

Guy's friend, Edward de Larn, an Indian aviator, who was held for a time as a material witness, was released when his attorney agreed to have De Larn in readiness at any time. De Larn is Guy's chief alibi witness. Two detectives accompanied De Larn to the court to make a final check of witnesses who have told of seeing Guy at the De Larn home the night of Dec. 5. Ralph Dunlap, mechanic, also was told.

TELLS WAR VETERANS BONUS IS MENACE

Daniel Bartlett Against U. S. Aid Except for Injured or Dependents.

Daniel Bartlett, lawyer and former Police Commissioner, head of the war veterans' division of the Missouri branch of the National Economy League, gave out a statement today in which he said that for the best interests of deserving war veterans and their dependents the abuses of hospitalization and disability benefits, costing a "staggering" sum, should be corrected.

Bartlett served overseas as an artillery officer in the Eighty-ninth Division and is a member of the American Legion. His statement was made at a meeting of the Missouri branch of the National Economy League, which is making a study of the State highway system and future highway needs of the State, took no action here yesterday on suggestion from the Automobile Club of Missouri that some action be taken by the 1933 Legislature to reduce the State automobile license fee.

"The veterans of the great war have a particular interest in national economy. They believe that the prime obligation of the government is to provide for the war veterans and their dependents. The United States is to generously aid the veteran, laboring under a handicap resulting from his service to his country, and to care for the dependents of those who fell in the war or who have died since as a result of war causes. To these purposes every veteran should consecrate himself."

"But if the funds of the national government are to be squandered in the form of bonus or pensions to ex-service men who are under no handicap, the government will be forced to raise taxes to meet the demands made for the war veterans and their dependents. This government will soon be unable to fulfill its obligations to the handicapped veterans, and to the dependents of those who died through war."

"The proportion of such war-handicapped veterans to the great mass of our people who saw service is small. If Congress is to yield to the demands made for the many, the comparatively few who are handicapped will be left to fend for themselves. The government will be forced to raise taxes to meet the demands made for the war veterans and their dependents. This government will soon be unable to fulfill its obligations to the handicapped veterans, and to the dependents of those who died through war."

"The Chief Executive remarked that 'Gee' would have been impatient' and would have 'built the glorious city out-of-hand in the primitive wilderness.' He praised Washington's plan.

Agreement on Ottoman Debt. PARIS, Dec. 15.—Representatives of the Turkish Government yesterday reached a principle agreement with holders of the Ottoman debt whereby Turkey will resume payment of interest on the part of the Ottoman debt for which Turkey resumed responsibility after the fall of the Ottoman empire. The capital of about 800,000,000 francs will take the form of new Turkish bonds bearing 7 1/2 per cent interest. France (currently about $30,000,000).

STREET CAR OPERATOR ROBBED AT LINE'S END

Holdup Man Gets $10 From Bellefontaine Motorman; Other Crimes.

Otto Angerman, 1036 Sells avenue, operator of a one-man Bellefontaine street car, was held up at the loop on Primm street near Michigan avenue last night by a young man with a revolver. The robber escaped with $10.

As Samuel Katz, grocer at 2909 Dayton street, went to wait on two Negroes who ordered 10 cents worth of meat, one Negro donned a mask and the other drew a revolver and demanded Katz's money. Katz gave him $4.

Mrs. Albert Beasley, 4787 Washington boulevard, was walking on an alley on Walton avenue near Delmar boulevard when a man pressed a revolver against her. He took her purse containing $4.60.

Mrs. Hazel Moran, proprietor of a laundry branch at 2119 Market street, was robbed of a purse containing $1 and keys by a Negro purse-snatcher at Eighteenth street and Clark avenue.

HOOVER LAYS CORNERSTONE OF TWO U. S. BUILDINGS

Speaks at Ceremony for Labor and Commerce Structures in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Expressing "profound pride as an American in the history of labor in this country," President Hoover today laid the cornerstone of the new $11,250,000 Department of Labor Building.

Simultaneously, by means of electrical synchronization, the President also laid the cornerstone of the new Interstate Commerce Commission Building nearby.

"It is indeed a pleasure," Mr. Hoover said at the outset of his brief address, "to make this further step in the fulfillment of the magnificent plan for the nation's capital. Since George Washington first envisioned this city, it has steadily grown nearer to his dream of a fitting symbol of a great people's purposes and energy and power."

The Chief Executive remarked that "Gee" would have been impatient' and would have 'built the glorious city out-of-hand in the primitive wilderness.' He praised Washington's plan.

PEDESTRIAN CONTROL ORDINANCE DRAFTED

It Will Be Offered to Aldermen Tomorrow—Walker Subject to Fine.

An ordinance for the protection of pedestrians crossing street sections where there are automatic traffic signals or traffic policemen will be introduced in the Board of Aldermen tomorrow. Pedestrians, as well as drivers and motorists, would have to obey it. The penalty for violation would be a fine of $3 to $25.

Automobiles, street cars and other vehicles, making right or left turns, would have to stop before crossing a crosswalk, if pedestrians were in the adjacent half of the street. The vehicles would not be allowed to proceed until the pedestrians had reached the nearest sidewalk, the center line of the street or a safety zone.

Pedestrians would be prohibited from entering crosswalks except on the signal of policemen or automatic devices. They would be required to stay in the crosswalks when crossing. No intersections where there are no policemen or signs.

Alderman Eilers will introduce the bill at the request of Director of Streets and Sewers Brooks. It has been approved by the Safety Council, the Automobile Club of Missouri, Chief of Police Gerk and Police Judges Foster and Blaine. Brooks said, Eighty-two per cent of the traffic accidents involving pedestrians occur at intersections. Brooks declared, and a boy was killed by an automobile recently in a crosswalk at Hamilton boulevard and Easton avenue. Brooks said nine American cities and London have varying rules for control of pedestrians in the streets.

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some minor discoloration and faint smudges, characteristic of old paper. The left edge of the page is bound, showing the stitching and the inner cover material. There is no text or other markings on the page.

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some minor discoloration and faint horizontal lines near the top edge, possibly from the binding or scanning process. There is no text or other markings on the page.

CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—The railroads flatly refused today to agree to their union employees' proposal that the present deduction of 10 per cent from wages be continued for another year.

The employers' reply to labor was practically a repetition of their offer of yesterday—continuance of the present 10 per cent deduction until next July 31; the entire wage question then to be threshed out under the Railroad Labor Act.

The agreement for the 10 per cent deduction which was made for one year expires next Jan. 31.
Observers regarded the managements' latest reply to labor as an indication that the road still pre-firms in their position that labor must take a 20 per cent reduction in basic pay under existing economic conditions.

The railroad's first proposal called for the 10 per cent deduction to continue after July 31 so long as negotiations were in progress
under the Railroad Labor Act.
Today's program called for the deduction to continue during the negotiations "if either party should so desire." That was taken to indicate the railroads might accede to labor's demand to discontinue the deduction during the negotiations.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY ON ONE CHARGE; SEIZED ON ANOTHER St. Louisan Accused of Arson in Illinois; Already Held Under Dyer Act.

Arthur Goldfin of St. Louis was arrested on a charge of arson today by Sheriff Browning Robinson of Franklin County, Ill., as he left the Federal Building in East St. Louis after pleading not guilty in Federal Court to an indictment for violation of the Dyer Act.

His attorney, John M. Kerner, of East St. Louis, contended Goldfin was under summons by the Federal Government. Goldfin was returned to the custody of the United States Marshal, while Kerner prepared to file a habeas corpus petition for Goldfin's release. Later he was turned over to Sheriff Robinson.

Goldfin and David Stone of St.
Louis were indicted a month ago for transporting a rented car from Kansas City, Mo. to West Frankfort, Ill., last July 23. The arson warrant, issued by State's Attorney Marion Hart of Franklin County, was issued in connection with the burning of a store building at West Frankfort at the time he and Stone are charged with going there in the stolen car. Stone is a fugitive.

HEARING ON EXTRADITION OF INDICTED EX-BANKER ENDS
Illinois Official Takes Under Advisement Question of Returning Him to St. Louis.

By the Associated Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Dec. 15.—A hearing on the request of the State of Missouri for the extradition of William Brace of Evanston, to face charges of obtaining money under false pretenses was concluded today. De Witt Billman, who acted for Gov. Emmerson, took the matter under advisement and will make his report to the Governor later.

Brace was charged with making false financial representations
when, as an officer for the Fidelity Bond & Mortgage Co., he borrowed money from the Pine Investment Co. of St. Louis on a second mortgage of the Fairmount Hotel of St.
Louis. He was charged with negotiating a loan of $40,000 on his representations. Later, it was testified, the Fairmount Hotel Company defaulted on payment of principal and interest on the mortgage.

Brace was secretary of Fidelity Bond & Mortgage Co. and a director of its affiliate, Fidelity Bank & Trust Co., both of which closed last year. Indicted with him recently, charged with obtaining money by false pretenses, was J.
U. Mentzer, president of the mortgage company and chairman of the bank's directors.

M.U. ELY, EX-FOOTBALL PLAYER

Jumps From the Tenth Floor of Yale Club in New York

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—Morris U.
Ely, an attorney and one-time Yale football player, leaped to his death yesterday from the tenth floor of the Yale Club. After reading two notes left in the club's writing room, police said it was suicide.
Ely, 57 years old, was graduated from Yale in 1898.
Many persons saw Ely fall. The body struck a coping and was thrown clear of a sixth-floor painter's scaffold.

night in her home, 17 Irving avenue, Kinloch Park. Her husband, Eugene, 22-year-old, janitor, told police he and his wife had engaged in a friendly scuffle over a pistol she was putting away, when it was accidentally discharged.
Robnett is held in jail at Clayton pending an inquest.

CALLS COAL RATES UNFAIR

Terre Haute Firm Says It Can't Reach Illinois and Missouri.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Complaint was filed today with the Interstate Commerce Commission by the Princeton Mining Co. of Terre Haute, Ind., against the Southern Railway's freight rates on bituminous coal shipped from King's mine to points in Illinois and Missouri.

King's mine is near Princeton, Ind.

The complaint alleged the rates are unreasonable and the company is unable to market its coal in East St. Louis and St. Louis because rates are substantially higher than those from competing mines.

The Proprieties at Parties
A Talk on Matrimony

GOOD TASTE

By EMILY POST

To the Party-Minded

Dear Mrs. Post: What are the correct hours for an afternoon bridge party, no luncheon bridge served first, and for an evening party? And what afternoon or evening refreshments should be served?

Answer: About 3 o'clock, or an hour and a half after dinner or supper time in your neighborhood. Serve tea in afternoon at 4:30 or 5 o'clock. (A whole meal served at set places on bridge tables in the mid-afternoon is neither in good taste nor good for the figure.) In the evening have a tray brought in with an assortment of cold beverages and a few thin sandwiches. If you give a party and the weather is cold, set a light buffet in the dining room. Welsh rabbit or scrambled eggs and sausage, hot chocolate or coffee, or both, with buttered finger rolls, illustrates an average menu.

My Dear Mrs. Post: I am giving a tea for my new daughter-in-law at the country club. Shall we receive with our hats and gloves on, or do we dress just as we would be receiving at home? And how do I introduce my daughter-in-law?

Answer: In New York you would wear hats and gloves. But if it is customary in your locality to receive without hats, it is always best to do as your neighbors do. Introduce her as "my new daughter" to friends, or "my daughter-in-law" to acquaintances, or "Jim's wife" to friends of Jim.

Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to an afternoon party at a house located in the part of town where parking on the street is restricted. At previous parties, this hostess always had a man to take my car to a garage and afterwards bring it to the door for me. I have never tipped this man, but feel that I should. What do you think, and how much would you suggest?

Answer: As he has done this service many times, I would in your place give him a dollar. And then give him another dollar at some future time. Otherwise, from 25 to 50 cents would be just right, depending upon the distance he takes the car—and also upon your means.

Dear Mrs. Post: I AM having a dinner party which will require the use of dinner plates, salad plates, bread and butter plates and cake plates. I have only three different sized plates to my set, but I have glass plates to match my glassware. Which should I use the glass plates for—salad or cake?

Answer: Cake.

My Dear Mrs. Post: My parents have been married 25 years on Christmas eve. Would it be better to hold the celebration on or after the date, since Christmas eve is such a busy time for everyone? And what kind of a party would be best to have?

Answer: This depends upon whether most of those invited are likely to be busy with Christmas trees. After 25 years, I should think the trimmings will be in the province of daughters and sons, and I can see no objections to giving the party on that night. In fact, I think it would be especially suitable in making everyone finish their Christmas preparations early in order to be free for your celebration. Have an ordinary evening gathering, with a simple buffet supper.

My Dear Mrs. Post: We are two girls of moderate means and want to have a tea for a close friend who will be married soon. Should our friend name those who will help in the serving and those who stand in the receiving line? Are we supposed to provide flowers for those assisting and for our friend?

Answer: A receiving line is proper at a wedding or at a semi-public reception, but not at a tea for a private individual. The girl for whom you are giving the tea might receive with you (stand between you at the door) if you are inviting at very least 100 people. If not more than 50 or so are expected, one of you would receive near the door, and the other introduce each arrival to the bride at a little distance away. Probably you would take turns. You invite your own friends to pour for you or to assist you in whatever way they can be useful. Whether you invite a friend of hers to pour or to make herself useful is solely a question of your own choice. It is not necessary to give flowers to anyone, unless you particularly want to give flowers to the guest of honor to wear.

An Accident.

If you have spilled food, upset and broken filled bottles, etc., get right at it and clean it up, even if you are disgusted. It can then be forgotten, while if left to clean up later, your bad humor will only last that much longer.

Let's EXPLORE Your MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.
See if You Can Correctly Answer These Questions

1 IS THE SURVIVAL OF THE FITTEST A FAIR AND JUST ECONOMIC LAW?

WAIT YES OR NO HERE

2 16 MOTHER LOVE AN UNSELFISH QUALITY?

WAIT YES OR NO HERE

3 15 IS IT TRUE THAT PHYSICAL OPPOSITES TEND TO MARRY?

WAIT YES OR NO HERE

AUTHOR'S NOTE: These answers are given from the scientific point of view. Not all moral questions can be answered with absolute scientific accuracy, but no decision as to what is morally right is possible without science. Science puts the rights of organized society above the rights of individuals.

- 1.—It is the only law by which a people can become rich and, therefore, civilized. A poor people cannot become civilized, produce art, communication, manners and inspiring social life. A whole race may exist in poverty when one man—a creator of wealth—lifts them into wealth and greatness. To discover and promote this leader is the very salvation of the economically weak and unfit.
- 2.—Mother love comes as near to complete unselfishness as is possible to human nature. My friend, "Bring 'Em Back Alive" Frank Buck, saw a monkey throw her baby to safety just as the jaws of a lion were closing on the mother. Her last supreme emotion was unselfish mother love. It reaches its climax in woman.
- 3.—No. Like tends to mate with like all through nature. Pearson, great English statistician, has shown that blue eyes marry blue eyes more often than brown and blue. On the average the tall marry the tall, the fat the fat and the lean the lean. Husband and wife often look like brother and sister, and on the average resemble each other as much as first cousins.

Mr. Wiggam will be glad to answer questions dealing with problems of conduct, morals, beliefs, husband and wife, parent or child—any questions in the field of human relationships. If personal reply is desired, enclose stamped (3c), self-addressed envelope.

PARENTS EVERYDAY RELIGION

Confidential Talks With Mothers and Fathers.
by Alice Judson Peale

Needed—Passivity

PERHAPS the greatest single lesson which modern education should teach parents is the need for passivity in relation to their children's activities.

When one visits a modern nursery school or kindergarten one is impressed by the fact that one seldom hears the teacher's voice. It is the children who are active, the children who are busy, it is their voices that one hears above the noises of their play.

The teacher is only to be found on the periphery of events, quietly interpolating a word here, untangling a snarl between wagon and doll carriage there, picking up someone who has fallen and is about to burst into tears.

Quietly, inconspicuously she goes about never disturbing those children who are busy, never suggesting anything unless a child seems at a loss to know what to do or is likely to get into too serious trouble unless he is distracted in a new direction.

The old-fashioned kindergarten teacher felt it was her duty to keep her charges entertained every minute. The modern teacher considers herself successful in the degree to which she manages to keep her children purposefully occupied with activities of their own choosing. Her object is to create a physical and psychological environment favorable to self-expression and constructive play.

The average mother has not yet learned this lesson. Only the pressure of other duties and perhaps the fact that she is readily bored with doing for long the kind of thing which will hold the young child's attention save him from having his initiative ruined before he ever reaches the first grade.

Stuffed Veal Cutlet.

One cup bread crumbs, one-half cup milk, one onion, a pinch of salt and pepper, one teaspoon poultry seasoning. Mix together well. Place a slice of veal cutlet in a baking pan, cover with filling, roll and tie with cord. Bake three-quarter hour in a slow oven, basting frequently with warm water.

The Mystery of Memory

UP in the attic on a rainy day, 40 years ago, while turning the pages of an old History of Tennessee, a story stuck in my mind and it has haunted me much. An Indian band raided a pioneer settlement, and after killing nearly everybody they carried some little boys off with them into the forest. Years passed, and in a fight with the Indians some of their warriors were captured, among them three men with faces almost white. Two of the mothers came to see if they could find and identify their lost boys. They walked along the line of prisoners, peering into the wild faces, looking for some trace of family likeness, but in vain. An officer asked if they remembered any song they used to sing to their boys in days of old. One mother went slowly along the line singing the crooning lullaby she used to sing to her little boy. The spirit of other days came back, and the song sobbed its way through her heart.

All at once a stalwart man, whom the forest had not utterly swallowed up, broke from the line and came cautiously toward her. They looked at each other for an instant, she still singing—a light shining through her tears—and the wild man fell on her shoulders and cried like a baby. It was the power of memory—deep calling unto deep—dim, dead days coming back on the wings of a lullaby, doing a miracle. The mother, changing a savage into a child, was weeping.

No wonder the story has stayed in my mind; the human heart is deep, and no one has found the bottom of it. We try to recall a name and it will not come, but it pops up a half hour later, usually too late. Recollection is one thing, memory another—we never really forget anything, much as we should like to. The slightest hint—a scent, a sound, a glimpse—resurrects bygone days, bringing back troops of images, to bless or torment us. All that we have thought, done, said, suffered, is stored up in memory; it is a book of judgment and destiny—to be opened and read by the merciful eyes of God. But those eyes will see deeper than sin, deeper than sorrow, and find things we half remember and half forget. Was this what the old psalmist meant when he wrote: "All the ends of the earth shall remember and turn to the Lord?" What a prophecy, as if the final redemption of man is to be from memory! Life would be a melody and a madness. Nay, more; give us but memory and we lose nothing in death. Whereas, if memory be taken from us, there is nothing worth keeping in this world or the next.

A Better Utensil.

When you put the karts, rolls, etc., into the oven to heat just a bit, don't take a chance and put them in on the china plate on which they are at present. Remove them to a tin or glass pie plate and avoid that china dish becoming brown or cracked. It only takes a minute.

Rest Whenever Possible.

Have you ever formed the habit of sitting down to any kitchen job that may be possible, such as preparing vegetables, making mayonnaise, whipping egg whites, etc.? That little rest for the feet will mean more energy for the other jobs.

LISTEN, WORLD!

by Elsie Robinson

Is Forced Wedlock Civilized?

SUPPOSE a judge ordered two people of entirely different tastes and temperaments to be haled into court and proceeded to say: "You two people must be bound to each other for life. Yes, I know that you hate each other; that you will be unable to spend a day together without quarreling and quarreling will destroy your individual efficiency and become a public nuisance. But that makes no difference. It is your duty to be bound to each other; so, tied you are!"

Horrid idea, isn't it? Impossible that such a thing should happen in a civilized country! And yet such things are happening every day in this country, with your and my full consent and approval.

Unwilling women are sentenced to be bound for life to men whom they detest. Furious men are doomed to spend their days with women whom they despise. All because they once, in an ill-judged moment, thought they loved each other and took a chance at marriage.

"Oh, if they're married, that's different," you say. But is it different? Is hate with a wedding ring any different than hate without a wedding ring? Isn't a spoiled life as much a tragedy and a social menace if it is backed by a marriage license as if it isn't? Consider, for example, the case of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Pasch of St. John's, Mich. For 10 years Mr. Pasch has wished to be divorced from Mrs. Pasch. For 10 years Mrs. Pasch has fought that desire and the Court has backed her.

For over five years they have lived apart and have been constantly engaged in litigation. Their quarrel has swept from one state to another, and has involved countless innocent bystanders. And now, for the fifth time, Mr. Pasch has failed in his effort to be free.

Now I am not acquainted with either Mr. or Mrs. Pasch. They may, for all I know, be admirable individuals. But do you think that a 10-year vicious row is admirable?

Do you think that any person, male or female, whatever his or her character, should be denied release from a hateful marriage, refused the chance to make a new start in life?

Do you think that 10 years of such public hate protects the sanctity of marriage? Or serves public welfare?

Over in Russia they don't believe it does. They believe that hate, which destroys individual happiness and efficiency, is as great a private and public catastrophe as smallpox or bubonic plague. Also, they believe that any form of slavery is abominable and a disgrace to the nation in which it exists. And they consider unwilling marriage the most degrading form of slavery. Accordingly, in Russia any man or any woman who wishes to be freed from an unhappy alliance is given divorce without opposition, even though they should resist the action.

This seems very shocking to most Americans, who consider Russians little better than savages. As a nation, we still believe that "free divorce" is as wicked as "free love." And we cannot condone it, even in the face of the fact that the Russian laws protect children of broken homes much better than our laws do.

And many quote religion as a defender of the status quo. But no religion forbids legal separation.

THE KIND OF GIRL MOST MEN ADMIRE

This is another in the series of articles written for the Post-Dispatch by the male motion picture stars of Hollywood.

By JACK OAKIE.

MEN admire a girl with a sense of humor. I think I speak for millions when I say men like a girl who is a good audience. Lots of girls would rather dish it out, than take it—and that's where they make their mistake.

After filling silk stockings to perfection, offering some eye stopping curves and a pair of beautiful orbs amidst lovely features, being a good and appreciative listener is the most important thing of all. If you want to be brutal about it, call it flattering the vanity of the male of the species.

A girl doesn't have to be dumb to be admired, but she can't be too smart and hope to have men think she's grand. At least, not if she lets them find out about her being the brainy type.

Men respect and admire good taste in a girl, especially if she shows the extreme good taste to think that he is the greatest guy in the world. Who wouldn't admire a girl with such marvelous discrimination?

One sure way for a girl to make any man admire her is to be able to walk past a crowd of fellows, have them all turn and stare and say together, "Somebody!"

If the man is with her at the time, he not only admires her, he also admires himself for being with her. In addition to admiring a girl who is a good audience herself and appreciates how clever and smart he is, a man likes a girl who is generous enough to let his friends in on some of his wit and humor. A girl who not only sheds tears of laughter the first time he makes a wise-crack, but one who remembers to tell him to tell the rest of the folks, "that terribly funny thing you said last night" the next time they are in a crowd, that's a girl to be admired.

That crack about the way to a man's heart being through his stomach is all wrong. A man doesn't mind taking a girl out to dinner as long as she handles herself in the right manner across the table.

And if at the end of the evening, she admits she has had the most wonderful time in her life, that he is not only the cleverest and wisest person she ever met, but that he has explained a lot of things to her she never understood before, that his ideas are "just too marvelous for words—just not only admire her, it's a million to one he'll love her!"

And to do all this with a straight face, a girl has to have a sense of humor.

BEHIND THE SCREENS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 12.

FILMLAND'S propensity to shape materials to its needs is balked little more by the human element than by problems concerning properties and sets.

Often, with a complacent security Hollywood takes actors and actresses from the stage and, disregarding their past specialties, remolds them to suit itself. A notable example of this was the recently closed Hollywood career of Tallulah Bankhead, who was a smart comedienne on the stage, but became a siren on the screen.

Lillian Bond is another girl who was "made over" in the Hollywood casting shop. What she did on the stage, which liked her as a pretty wicked person, and so used her, I doubt, too, that Lionel Atwill, a stage veteran, ever dreamed he would figure in movie horror series.

LYLE TALBOT came to Hollywood expecting to play minor roles for a while at least, but scarcely was prepared when he was cast time after time as the villain, sleek and insistent. Why, a stock he was an all-around leading man, and usually the hero. His role in "No More Orchids," however, has brought him back to the leading man group.

More recently came Harold Heber, a stage comic—as such his future was considered most promising—until movie scouts spotted him in a Broadway show. In his last months here he has worked in eight pictures, and not once as a comic, but usually as a heavy.

THIS Huber, by the way, is paid by his studio in the class of those who "will bear watching." That means, or always has meant, that ere long he will be given a real part in a real picture.

If it works out that way, you may be interested to know that he was born in New York City, attended N. Y. U., where he studied law with no intention of doing anything but acting. He won his first break on Broadway with a small role in "A Farewell to Arms," the same play that brought Ellsland to America, and was elevated to the chief comic role before the picture opened.

His contract has been renewed once, and evidence of some stage plan for him is supplied by its refusal to allow him to accept a desirable stage engagement in London.

Roast Duck.
One-half teaspoon salt.
One-fourth teaspoon pepper.
Three tablespoons flour.
Four tablespoons water.
Wash and clean duck. Stuff with apple stuffing. Sew up and place duck upon rack in baking pan. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and flour. Cover and bake 30 minutes in hot oven. Add water and baste frequently.

Apple Stuffing.
Two cups chopped apples.
Two cups bread crumbs.
One-half teaspoon salt.
One-fourth teaspoon nutmeg.
One-fourth teaspoon celery salt.
One-fourth teaspoon poultry seasoning.
One tablespoon chopped parsley.
Four tablespoons fat, melted.
One-third cup boiling water.
Lightly mix ingredients.

CHAPTER SIXTEEN.

HE GOT up to his feet and wiped his hands with a handkerchief. Somehow there had been a little blood on his fingers. He looked around on the floor for a revolver but no such weapon was present.

Other people, in other apartments, startled by the pistol shot were rolling out of their beds, turning on lights, throwing up windows.

"What's happened?" someone was calling across the court.

"There was a shot right under my window—"

"I'm going to phone the police!"

"There was a man on the fire escape!"

He climbed down and ran around the corner of the building!

Cavanaugh closed his window against this clamor and drew the curtain over it. It did not matter what those people were shouting.

Someone—not himself—had shot and killed Annette. Who it was or why or how was beyond his immediate comprehension. It had happened so swiftly that he was dazed and confused, but he was realizing it was a matter for the police.

"I'll be arrested for this," he said to himself, "and it's going to be tough to explain."

He looked down again at Annette. Her face was still vindictive, even in death.

For a moment Cavanaugh was tempted to telephone Leni, but he gave up the thought. She would hear of it soon enough. Annette, in death was now a far greater barrier between them than she had been in life.

Oddly enough, Cavanaugh remembered a timber wolf he had once seen with its foot locked in the cruel teeth of a steel trap. The animal could not get away and he had shot it out of pity. He understood now how the wolf must have felt. Going into his bedroom he picked up the telephone and he heard the sleeping clerk at the desk.

"Get me police headquarters."

"Anything wrong, Mr. Cavanaugh?"

"Get me headquarters, please!"

His call was passed mechanically by the operator to the telephone room at headquarters and finally plugged in on the private line that led to Detective Mulrooney's home in a quiet neighborhood street, where it rang repeatedly until Mulrooney climbed out of bed and went downstairs to answer it.

"I'm giving you a break, Mulrooney," said Cavanaugh grimly. "A woman has just been shot and killed in my apartment. You better beat it over here as fast as you can. If you hurry you'll be the first one on the scene."

Mulrooney wasted no time asking questions, beyond an inquiry asking Cavanaugh's address.

Cavanaugh went back to the living room and sat down. Overcoming all his feelings, he forced himself to touch Annette's forehead. It was beginning, definitely, to be cold.

Tomorrow the whole thing would be in the newspapers. A woman had been shot dead in his apartment the early morning. It was not suicide—it was murder.

The consequences began to reveal themselves plainly. Very likely Leni would be lost to him forever.

It was the kind of disgrace that would follow a man to his grave. Nine-tenths of his life was wrecked right now. A man mixed up in a thing like this could never explain it away. It stamped him with a mark that would be visible and infelicitous forever.

It was the end of Lucky's luck. Undoubtedly he would be arrested. Perhaps he would go to trial and conceivably he would be convicted.

He got up and began to look around the room for a revolver. It was useless because no such weapon was there. The telephone rang gently. It was the clerk on the switchboard downstairs speaking.

"I heard your talk to that policeman, Mr. Cavanaugh. Did I understand you to say somebody had been killed?"

"No, you misunderstood me," Cavanaugh said abruptly and hung up.

What had happened began to piece itself together in his mind. A shot had come from outside the open window. People had been crying that they saw a man on the fire escape and heard him shoot.

There was only one consolation in the whole terrible business. Leni was no longer in jeopardy from the half-mad jealousy of the other woman. There would be no more talk of vitriol.

All the same, he would have to face the probability that never again would Leni Lunska look upon him as before. Between them forever would be the dead body of a murdered woman—a symbol of infidelity. The facts would speak for themselves.

In the future, Lucky Cavanaugh would be the kind of a man people avoided.

He bent forward in his chair, resting his face in his hands. Other men before him had stumbled into this darkness—the tragic legion of men who had lost their luck. He had seen them, futile, shabby, drifting around the edges of their former triumphs.

Luck was a thing of wealth, youth, joy. When it left it took everything with it.

He could picture himself hanging from a gallows.

SYNOPSIS.

At the premiere of her latest motion picture, beautiful Leni Lunska, the star, is embarrassed by the appearance of her husband, Karl Kruger, whom she married in Vienna, when just a child. Years of brutality and unhappiness followed. Finally Kruger was put in prison and Leni came to America, where, after a long struggle, she reached stardom in motion pictures. Kruger, who seeks recognition as her husband and waits in a private office of the theater for her to reconsider her refusal. Meanwhile, thieves are robbing the safe in the next office. Lucky Cavanaugh, who met the star that evening and fell in love with her on sight, orders Kruger to leave. A fight ensues. Falling in an attempt to shoot Cavanaugh, Kruger rushes into the next office. Detective Tom Mulrooney suspects Cavanaugh, but when the latter denies the crime, gives him four days in which to find the murderer among his underworld friends. Cavanaugh is warned by "Slim," one of the robbers, that the gunmen fear he will squeal and so "have you on the spot." At Leni's home, Lucky receives a phone call from a woman named Annette, who threatens him. Cavanaugh proposes to Leni. Steve Poletski, Kruger's murderer, is lying in ambush across the alley from Cavanaugh's home to shoot him as Lucky returns home to find Annette in his apartment. Poletski kills Annette by mistake.

gazed, unkempt, shunned, a creature of the back alleys and murky places. His whole life had been founded on luck. He opened his eyes and looked at Annette's body. Her cold clay was the answer to everything.

VERY slowly and comfortably Leni came back to consciousness in her bed. Oddly enough, she had slept soundly until almost noon. For a while she did not open her eyes because she wanted to prolong the exquisite sensation of being in love.

Like many women who know nothing of love, Leni knew almost nothing of love. No one would believe this, as she emerged from slumber she was as delighted with life as a school girl who has found her first sweetheart.

Only when she was fully awake did she recall the stark and brutalized elements of her life.

Even the Holy Grail of stardom—glittering motion pictures, success—bore down upon her with crushing weight. The death of Kruger—the threatened exposure of her past—the threats and demands of the czaristic detective Mulrooney—all of these were like black beasts trying to tear her to pieces.

The sweet and rose colored glow of her love dreams began to cool off.

Presently she would arise and feel her success squeezing painfully into her tender flesh like heavy iron fetters. The anguish of last night would be with her again.

The door of the bedroom opened and her personal maid, Celeste, came in bearing a silver tray with hot coffee and a dish of cold sliced peaches.

"It's time for madame to be awake," said Celeste with a tinge of authority. "The day is half gone and we are being swamped with telegrams of congratulations."

There was a stack of yellow envelopes from people who had seen the premiere of Leni's picture. These were the first fruits of success. These telegrams were only the beginning.

From now on she would live in the world worshiped almost as a queen. She was young, rich, beautiful. Money, love, admiration was ready to pour upon her in a golden shower.

Men would follow her, pursue her, lay their life and love at her feet. She could have anything and anybody she desired. She could be a marchioness or a countess if it pleased her whim.

Life was no longer a golden dream. It was a dizzy reality spangled with the rarest jewels the world afforded.

All of this Leni realized. She looked down upon the glittering panorama from an ethereal height. It was the nearest thing to earthly heaven a feminine mind could conceive.

"You can take those telegrams away, Celeste," she said simply. "I'm not interested."

The maid looked at her, plainly astonished. "But madame!"

"Don't bother, please. If any one phones I'm not at home, except to Mr. Cavanaugh."

Celeste gathered up the tele-

Home-Made Presents Are Much in Vogue

WASHINGTON.

THE Christmas gift problem is simpler than ever this year.

For the woman who buys all her presents the stores are filled with new and novel things suitable to give any member of the family or friend. Or for the woman who wants to make a few remembrances for close friends there are plenty of materials that may be purchased and made into presents easily. The gift-makers apparent-ly are giving extra thought this year to the home-made present.

Petit-point embroidery is engaging many Washington women this year. Most of the embroiderers are giving their friends seat and footstool covers for chairs which they have stolen in to measure at odd times. These gifts are easy to make since the stores have hundreds of patterns, some of them with the central figure—the hardest work—done. The background could be finished even in the short time left.

One Washington woman is covering 48 ordinary match boxes with bright paper. All it takes is the paper, match boxes, a glue-pot and some patience. Measure the box, and with a pencil and ruler lay out all the pieces of paper that will be needed. Then cut them and paste them on. The boxes add an attractive touch to the bridge table of the lucky person who receives such a gift.

The young woman who does a good deal of entertaining may be happy to receive a maline bag to hang on her dressing table, filled with tiny powder puffs made of cotton tied with bright ribbons. And her guests will like using them.

The fortunate woman who can turn delicious fruit cakes out of her oven should be busy right now, particularly if she has any hurried apartment house dwellers on her list. It's a simple matter to buy the ingredients and make the cakes which last for months.

Then there are always hooked rugs. Dozens of Washington women are busy "punching" away at burlap these last few weeks in order to give away these bright, soft rugs. And this year they are not content with just making a hooked rug. They are making raised flower and leaf patterns, burlap stamped with patterns, yarn can be purchased readily for the rugs.

accept success so calmly seemed to Celeste to border upon weak-mindedness.

THE coffee brought a gracious and stimulating warmth to her Leni. A delightful sense of freedom was playing around her heart.

The tearing anguish of the night before had changed to meek and simple contentment. The gratification of her ambition had nothing to do with it. Ambition, success had melted away like the dross they really were.

A new emotion, as clear and beautiful as the ringing of a silver bell, was sounding throughout her whole being. She was no longer a slave. She had been, wretched and

Slam Tries After Two No Trump Opening Bids

WHEN you have a strong suit of six or more cards, that is no essential reason to insist on playing the hand in that suit if the opening bidder continues to show preference for no trumps. If you have 100 hon-ors do not surrender the lead. To the liquor add one onion, a stalk of celery, and one or two bay leaves. Let this simmer for 15 minutes. Strain and add to a cream soup made with one rounded tablespoon each of butter and flour, one quart of milk and one pint of cream. Salt and pepper to taste. The last thing add the ground oysters. Serve very hot and sprinkle each serving with chopped parsley.

Cream of Oyster Soup.

Scald one quart of oysters, removing them from the liquor as soon as the lips begin to curl. When cool put the oysters through the meat grinder. To the liquor add one onion, a stalk of celery, and one or two bay leaves. Let this simmer for 15 minutes. Strain and add to a cream soup made with one rounded tablespoon each of butter and flour, one quart of milk and one pint of cream. Salt and pepper to taste. The last thing add the ground oysters. Serve very hot and sprinkle each serving with chopped parsley.

Veal Pot Pie.

Make a pie dough, using one and a half cups of flour, two-thirds cup of lard, and a pinch of salt, about one-third cup of ice water and make a stiff dough. Roll out one-fourth inch thick and spread with one-fourth cup of lard. Fold and refold six or seven times. Roll out and spread with the remaining lard. Repeating the rolling, and cut and place on the outside of a pyrex baking dish. Prick with a fork and bake in a quick oven. When cool remove and fill with the meat and vegetable mixture.

HOUSE COMMITTEE TURNS DOWN PLAN TO LEGALIZE WINE

Bill Rejected 14 to 9 but Proposal Can Be Submitted on Floor as Amendment.

WILL CALL ON BEER EXPECTED TUESDAY

Lawyer Opposes 3.2 Pct.
Measure With $5-a-Barrel Tax on Theory It Is Unconstitutional.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—The House Ways and Means Committee today disapproved the Lea bill legalizing wine.

The vote as announced by Representative Rainey of Illinois was 14 to 9 against a motion to report the bill to the House for action.
The committee agreed yesterday to consider the wine measure, which was sponsored by Representative Lea (Dem., Cal.), California.
The committee action will not prevent wine proponents from seeking to amend the beer bill in the House to legalize light wines, along with the brew.

The Lea bill proposed the legalization of naturally fermented wines and a 20-cent a gallon tax.
Chairman Collier of the committee told reporters the 14 to 9 vote was the result of an opinion that the alcoholic content in naturally fermented wines was in violation of the eighteenth amendment. He felt the legislation of light wines "would be unconstitutional."

Committee Vote on Wine.
A poll of the committee showed that Democrats and six Republicans voted against the wine bill, and Democrats and four Republicans voted for reporting the measure.

Democrats reported unofficially voting to reject the wine bill in the "Collier" of Mississippi, Cotton of North Carolina, Can-field of Indiana, Sanders of Texas, Skinner of Missouri, Lewis of Tennessee, and Vinson of Kentucky, and of Tennessee. Republicans voted against the wine bill, and Democrats and four Republicans voted for reporting the measure.

Beer Bill Rushed.
The committee's formal report on the wine bill was expected today. The committee's formal

Question of Repeal.
Whether the eighteenth amendment is to be repealed or changed, and if so, by what method, and whether the favorable action of both houses of Congress of the legislatures or convention of three-fourths of the states, or the determination of the Congress has the question of the repeal of the prohibition act as it may be kept in mind the letter of the amendment. In the event it may permit
the manufacture and sale of any alcoholic liquor which may reasonably be held to be non-intoxicating in the report said that aside from the popular demand for modification of the prohibition act, the committee recognized beer taxes, in view of the condition of the Treasury, as a large factor in the necessary revenue.

The report said that a tax of $5 a barrel would be a factor in the necessary revenue.

HOOVER PLANS CHRISTMAS VACATION TRIP TO FLORIDA

Unless the Unexpected Prevents He Will Spend Week in Boat and Auto in South.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—President Hoover had virtually decided today upon a Christmas vacation trip to Florida, leaving the capital a day or two before Christmas and spending at least a week in the South traveling by boat and automobile.
The possibility that Congress might not adjourn for the customary 10-day recess over the holidays, or the occurrence of some entirely unexpected crisis in national or international affairs, stand in the way of a final decision.
Plans already have been made to cancel the New Year's day reception at the White House, during which the chief executive and his family receive Government officials, diplomats and thousands of citizens.
There were reports today that Secretary Stimson, in view of the holiday arrangements, might cancel the customary breakfast to the diplomatic corps on New Year's day.

IOWA DEPUTY SHERIFF KILLED, ANOTHER SHOT AT FARM HOUSE

Officers Fire on When They Go to Serve Warrant for Statutory Offense.

By the Associated Press.
WATERLOO, Ia., Dec. 16.—Deputy Sheriff W. F. Dillworth was killed and another Deputy Sheriff, H. M. Mitchell, seriously wounded today at a farm house where they sought to serve a warrant on Jack Griffith and Elmer Bredon.
Mitchell said they were fired upon in front of the house. Dillworth fell fatally wounded and Mitchell staggered to an inn a short distance away.

William Kahn, proprietor of the inn, brought Mitchell to the hospital. The warrants were on a statutory charge.

FUEL TAX TO GO TO NEEDY

CARLEIGH, Ill., Dec. 16.—The Director of Finance of Illinois will be asked to allot to Clinton County $8000 from the motor fuel tax fund due the county, or $2000 each for January, February and March, 1933, to be used for relief purposes.
The necessary resolution was adopted by the Board of Supervisors.
Heretofore funds from other sources were available to care for the needy, and the gasoline tax money was used this year for building roads. No highway construction by the county next year is planned.

Fingerprints on Ice Are Clew.
CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—Fingerprints on a cake of ice yesterday sent police searching for a burglar.
The 19-year-old, as a burglar suspect, the burglar entered an apartment through a delivery chute, but had to move a cake of ice that blocked the passage. Clearly defined fingerprints were found on the ice.

DOG RACE BETTING BY 'SUBSCRIPTIONS' IS HELD UNLAWFUL

State Supreme Court
Knocks Out Wellston Track's Scheme as 'Sham' to Get Around Statute.

DECISION LIKELY TO STOP HORSES

Justices' Legal Views Said to Apply to Systems Used in Western Part of State.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Dec. 16.— Betting systems designed to get around Missouri laws and permit wagering on horse and dog racing in the State were dealt a severe blow today by the Missouri Supreme Court en banc, in declaring void an injunction issued by the Wellston Kennel Club conducted dog races in St. Louis County for two days last May.
The Supreme Court held that the "public subscription plan," which the club proposed to use, by which customers could win or lose on the dog races, was a violation of the State law against pool selling and against recording, registering or becoming custodian of a bet on a race.
The system, similar to plans sometimes called the "contribution" or "certificate" system, was declared by the court to be obviously a sham for the transaction of a business expressly forbidden by law.
Far-Reaching Effect.
While the ruling dealt only with the system utilized by the Wellston Kennel Club in the brief period its injunction restrained State and county officers from interfering with operation of the track, its effect will be more far reaching.
It was learned from reliable authority that the decision would apply also to betting on horse races conducted at the time of a track in the western part of the State, including Platte County, near Kansas City.
The injunction knocked out by the court was issued by Clayton May 11 by Circuit Judge Jerry Mulloy, on application of the Wellston Kennel Club. It restrained Prosecuting Attorney Castlen, Sheriff Lill, other county officers and Attorney-General Sharkey from interfering with operation of the track.
The Supreme Court today made its preliminary ruling of probable invalidity of the injunction absolute, basing the ruling on a finding, in the injunction case, that the Wellston Kennel Club's petition for the injunction did not state a cause of action against the officers sought to be enjoined. This finding of no cause of action was based on the ruling that the "public subscription plan" was in violation of the law.
The court's ruling failed to state a cause of action, if the facts disclosed the business in question contravenes any law of the State.
Both Votes Unanimous.
Both opinions were written by Judge F. E. Atwood. The vote on each was unanimous, the other six Judges of court concurring.
The judge said the facts showed that the kennel club proposed to conduct racing on a track at St.
Charles and Ashby roads, under the "public subscription plan." The plan provided for owners to lease the dogs to the club for the races in which they were entered.
The "subscription contract" between the club and customers making "subscriptions" bore on one side the entry number of the dog selected by the customer, the race and the amount "subscribed."
On the reverse side was printed
this agreement:
"The holder of this receipt has contributed the amount indicated on the reverse side hereof to the Wellston Kennel Club, which because absolute owner thereof, to defray expenses, provide suitable

HARRISON CALLS OFF DEBATE ON FRENCH DEFAULT

Wiser to Be Silent at This Time, Senator Says, in Changing His Announced Plans.

HOOVER MESSAGE
PROBABLY MONDAY

Resentment in Congress Against France Over Debts Situation Spreads to Administration.

By PAUL Y. ANDERSON,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—After giving notice yesterday that he would discuss France's default, Senator Pat Harrison (Dem., Miss.), told the Senate this afternoon that "certain things have happened which convince me it would be wiser to remain silent at this time." He did not say what these "things" were, and to all outward appearances the situation remains unchanged. However, there was evidence that Harrison had yielded to entreaties from the State Department.

Inquiry among Senators disclosed that resentment against France was being supplanted in part by resentment against the Administration, based on a growing belief that France had been privately assured that her debt to the United States would be reduced or canceled if France would reduce the amount of reparations collected from Germany. The conviction that France never would have agreed to the Lausanne reparations settlement in the absence of such assurance from the United States, was spreading through both houses of Congress.

Temper of Senators.
It was apparent from the temper of the members that open discussion of the subject cannot be forestalled very long. At least one influential member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee is prepared to demand on the floor that President Hoover and Secretary Stimson disclose what assurances, if any, were given the British and French governments.

Although not yet willing to be quoted, this Senator told the writer there was "not the slightest doubt" in his mind that President Hoover told Premier Laval, during the latter's visit to Washington, that if France and England would settle the reparations problem, the United States would reopen the debt question.

He pointed to the joint communique issued by Hoover and Laval at the end of their conversation, in which it was stated that some readjustment of inter-governmental debts might be necessary during the depression, and that Europe must take the initiative.

"Why would Europe take the initiative unless the United States was expected to follow?" he said. Moreover, he recalled that, when the Lausanne negotiations seemed on the point of collapse, President Ramsey MacDonald went to the scene, and a settlement was reached almost immediately.

Senators said privately that the only conceivable message which would have produced this result would have been one from responsible United States officials, promising a reconsideration of debts. Thus, although apparently no one in Congress is prepared to defend the course of France in defaulting, there is a noticeable willingness to concede that the President had some cause to feel that they had been betrayed.

President's Planned Message.
President Hoover will submit to Congress probably next Monday a message on the status of the war debts. This is expected to carry with it a renewed recommendation for creation of a debts commission. The new commission, east on the debts issue by yesterday's default on the part of France and four other nations, was studied today at the President's Cabinet table, but afterward the officials directly concerned were non-committal on the future American course.

A published report that Mr. Hoover was considering further consultation with President-elect Roosevelt on the debts was met with flat denial at the White House. Despite the expectation that the President would recommend creation of a debts commission, there was not prospect that Congress would approve it, and it was definitely rejected. The Administration has no intention at present of setting up any unofficial agency of the sort without Congressional authority.

"Should Show Good Faith."
In the House today Representative May (Dem., Kentucky), recalled American aid to Allies in the World War, and said: "If they expect reduction or cancellation of debts they should first show good faith by paying the installments now due. I refer particularly to France, because it is known that, if there is a nation throughout the world able to meet her obligation, it is the republic of France."

The very nation indeed of whose gates the enemy had penetrated when we helped them, says the American Government: "We are going to make new terms for our war debts, although they already have been reduced from more than four billion dollars to three billion.

"France says she will not pay the $20,000,000 she owes on debts, yet she is spending millions and hundreds of millions, in these days of peace, on armament. The United States is far more prostrate now than France, Germany or Belgium."

DOG RACE BETTING
BY "SUBSCRIPTIONS" IS HELD UNLAWFUL

It was paid 10 per cent of the amount.

The single question in the case, Judge Atwood said, was whether the "subscription plan" was violative of any law.

Pool selling, prohibited by State law, has been defined by the judge as a combination of number of persons, each taking an amount of money on the success of a horse in a race, or a contestant in a game, the money to be divided among the successful bettors according to the amount put in by each.

Pool selling, he said, was simply a scheme for facilitating betting races. After analyzing the plan and numerous decisions on betting, the judge said the "subscription plan," as proposed by the defendant, "embraces every essential element of pool selling," as denounced in Section 4286, R. S., 1929.

"Counsel for respondent (the Kennel Club), say that subscription to a dog race is not bet or wager, and that a subscription being legal in its entirety, the manner of its subsequent disbursement cannot be illegal."

The judge said, "a bet is a bet, by whatever name it may be called."

"Looking as we must to the real nature of the transaction, which would have produced this result would have been one from responsible United States officials, promising a reconsideration of debts. Thus, although apparently no one in Congress is prepared to defend the course of France in defaulting, there is a noticeable willingness to concede that the President had some cause to feel that they had been betrayed."

TURNS DOWN PLAN TO LEGALIZE WINE

based on 2.75 per cent beer in states with a population of 73,821,000.

"The beer provided for in the bill is of a slightly higher alcoholic content (3.2 by weight or 4 per cent by volume) and being more palatable, would be consumed more generally than 2.75 beer."

Ottis Brewery Figures.
The report cited that the brewing interests placed the probable consumption at 40,000,000 barrels a year within the next two years, with a revenue of $200,000,000 annually. It added, however, that with 60,000,000 barrels of tax-paid beer being consumed in 1934 that with the increase in population there would be a demand of approximately 60,000,000 barrels in the states where it can be legally sold.

The report said "the alcohol in a 4 per cent beer is so diluted that it would require considerable effort on the part of an average person to drink enough to become drunk."

"Moreover," the committee's report said, "in determining what is in fact intoxicating it would not be proper to use either an inveterate drinker or one easily susceptible to intoxication as a criterion. Also, it should be assumed that the beer is to be drunk as it is generally drunk, that is, in limited quantities and with food."

Use of Farm Products.
The report pointed out that there were large quantities of "farm products, including malt, rice, corn, hops, etc., used in the manufacture of beer."

It also estimated that the legalization of beer would give employment to 75,000 men in breweries, $25,000 in retail distribution, and direct employment to many more in allied industries.

"The expansion of production in the brewing industry would require an estimated capital expenditure of $360,000,000 within the next year, which, it added, would give employment to many men in many lines of business. The railroads, cooperages, glass, refrigerating equipment, machinery, truck and other industries, it said, would be aided."

The report also said there was a large quantity of home brew and illicit beer being made "under unsanitary and unsanitary conditions and that bootleg beer was selling from $4.00 to $5.00 per barrel" and "the Federal Government is not collecting a cent of tax from this illegal product."

"The legalization of good, wholesome, palatable, non-intoxicating beer will go far toward stamping out this illegal traffic by making it unprofitable in competition with good tax-paid beer at one-third the price, and will enable the Federal Government to collect a large

The report also contained a synopsis of the bill, setting out its important features.

Representative Treadway (Rep., Massachusetts, who voted in committee against the bill, filed a minority report saying, "I can consistently vote for the pending measure, but as a member of the Ways and Means Committee dealing with the revenues of the country, I could not vote to report a measure in which the revenue element was secondary to the legislation of the manufacture and sale of 3.2 per cent beer."

Treadway said the Ways and Means Committee was the "revenue-making committee" of the House, and that obviously the reference of the beer bill to the Ways and Means Committee was a subterfuge to secure a favorable report from some committee, as it had previously been a demonstrated fact that such a report could not be obtained from the Judiciary Committee, which has jurisdiction over prohibition matters."

LONDON HOPES FOR FRIENDLY DEBT TALK

Mellon Delays His Sailing to Confer With Chancellor of Exchequer.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Dec. 16.—Payment of the $95,000,000 debt installment to the United States was featured in today's newspapers with every indication of relief and satisfaction that an awkward corner had been turned; also with hope of a new deal which would sweep away the existing debt agreement.

Remarking that recent correspondence between the United States and Great Britain ended without bitterness, the Times looked forward today to a friendly discussion for "revision of the settlement which was broken down by its own weight."

The newspaper regarded yesterday's payment as marking the close of the first chapter in the long history of the war debts and the beginning of the second, which must bring the story to an end.

Urging that there must be no delay in entering the next phase, it recalled the difficulties of the present political situation in the United States and appealed to public opinion here to be sympathetic in recognition of the fact America has troubles as well as Great Britain.

It deprecated raking up the past or imputing grasping motives to the American people.

"All that matters now is that the two countries get together and discover how they can co-operate to the best advantage for the world and international finance," it said.

Andrew W. Mellon, the American Ambassador, canceled a reservation to sail for New York just before the ship left yesterday.

He learned he was remaining over for a conference with Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer.

This was regarded in British quarters as an indication of an early debt pact.

It was uncertain whether Mr. Mellon would sail Saturday, the last sailing which would assure his arrival in the United States for Christmas.

A new debt conference was expected to be arranged through the American Embassy here and not through further notes to the American Government.

RECAPTURED LIFE TERNER
KILLS HIMSELF IN JAIL

Suicide Attributed by Sheriff to Disclosure of the Prisoner's Identity.

BROOKHAVEN, Miss., Dec. 16.—A county jail here today was the scene of a tragedy as John Wood, an escaped life term from the Colorado State Penitentiary, committed suicide in jail here yesterday by slitting his throat with a razor blade.

Wood was held here on a charge of robbing a mail train. The post office with a revolver, a crime now punishable by death in Mississippi. The filling station employee identified him as the robber. Several Lincoln County, Miss., citizens identified the man as Wood and said he was a native of the Auburn community.

Wood left a note which read: "Those that hold me will do otherwise a favor by not identifying me. Let Lincoln County lay my body to rest. Sheriff Applewhite, good-bye to all."

Officers expressed the belief that Wood had killed himself because his identity had been disclosed.

RELIEF LEADERS CRITICIZE WEALTHY WHO HAVEN'T GIVEN

"I'll be the worst one in the world." When Shepley sat down, those present stood and applauded.

Wallace warned of "trouble smouldering beneath the surface" and predicted that the City Hall riot of last July would be "just a little flareup" compared to what might happen if the money were not raised.

Nagel, recently elected president of the United Relief, Inc., the corporation formed to administer relief funds, said this appeal was organized on so broad a basis that there could be no possible excuse for not supporting it.

Bringing help to those in need in these like these, Weisenburger said, was not only a duty of organized society, but a matter of self-preservation. Leaving the burden to government, he added, would be a long step toward socialism.

Former Gov. Gardner said he had "serious doubts of what might happen to our city, State and form of government if we fail to take care of the hungry and the destitute."

Followed reports of the campaign division chairmen, all of them presenting a dismal picture except that of Bradford Shinkle, chairman of the hungry group, who predicted it would exceed its quota of $900,000. Returns from 999 business firms have given it a total of $300,000, Shinkle said, and 1499 more are expected.

For the general division Jacob M. Lashly said returns so far indicated that it might be reasonably expected to produce between $200,000 and $300,000 of its $400,000 quota.

Edward L. Bakewell, chairman of the county division, reported it had reached 35 per cent of its $100,000 quota and expected, when solicitation was complete, to get about 66 per cent.

Those present constituted the Executive Committee of the campaign, which unites the appeals of 22 Catholic, Jewish and Community Fund relief agencies. It was their first meeting. Probably, Watts said, it would not be their last.

"We are here tonight," he added, "not because of your money, but because of your influence and your ability to serve. No man or woman in such a time as this can afford to feel that his services are not subject to call."

"You are here that you may understand the problem and be ready to give this kind of service. If you do, we will get all that we need. In any event, we will get all that is to get."

Jefferson Barracks 100 Per Cent for Relief Fund; $4766 Kledged.

Every one of the 730 officers, enlisted men and civilian employees at Jefferson Barracks subscribed to the United Relief Fund, pledging a total of $4766.02, Col. Walter Krueger, commandant, announced today.

The pledges ranged upward from 10 cents a month, although most of the personnel are privates paid only $21 a month. Some privates in this classification promised as much as 50 cents monthly. The highest salary in the post is less than $5000 a year. The gifts are in excess of 1 per cent of the annual payroll of about $400,000 at the Barracks. Solicitors for the fund in the city have been trying to get donations of 1 per cent of salary from the average employed person.

This is the first time the army post has joined in a St. Louis charity campaign. Col. Krueger suggested the co-operation with the thought that his men owe a moral obligation to the less fortunate in the community. Many of the soldiers are in excess of 1 per cent of the annual payroll of about $400,000 at the Barracks. Solicitors for the fund in the city have been trying to get donations of 1 per cent of salary from the average employed person.

Power Cut Off in Franchise Fight.

PANA, Ill., Dec. 16.—Due to a disagreement over a franchise between officials of Tower Hill and the Central Illinois Public Service Co., that village was without street lights and power last night, the company having shut off the current. Mayor B. J. Williams said he hoped to reach an agreement with the company within a few days.

RELIEF PLEDGES SMALLER IN MOST GROUPS THAN IN PREVIOUS CAMPAIGNS

To Reach Goal 171,264 Must Contribute or the 59,091 Who Have Given Must Increase Pledges.

The magnitude of the task of reaching the $3,850,000 goal of the United Relief Campaign is emphasized on examination of results prior to today's meeting. These show 59,091 individual contributions totaling $1,505,000, or about 39 per cent of the goal.

If the goal is to be reached, analysis of these figures indicated, 171,264 individuals who will contribute on the same scale as those who have already given, or the 59,091 who have subscribed must increase their pledges, thereby reducing the number of additional contributors required.

Difficulties beset both alternatives.

The first would mean a total of 171,264 contributors, or 20,000 more than ever before secured in a single charity campaign in St. Louis, and 30,000 more than contributed in the joint appeal last year of the Community Fund and Citizens' Committee on Relief and Employment, in which $2,455,500 was pledged. While the United Relief Campaign, including Catholic and Jewish agencies, draws support from new sources, there are many who gave to charity in other years who cannot do so this year because of unemployment.

The second alternative holds little encouragement in view of the fact that solicitation has proceeded slowly in an effort to obtain the largest possible contributions.

Contributions Smaller.

Further comparison of the two campaigns shows that the average contribution this year is smaller in all groups of the campaign except two, the employe and county divisions. Such comparisons may be justified, despite the inclusion of new agencies, because for the purposes of the United Relief Campaign the Community Fund method of organization has been employed and its personnel expanded.

The larger subscriptions division last year obtained 1530 pledges totaling $1,446,421, an average of $945. So far this year it has obtained 1493 pledges totaling $847,467, averaging $568. This division solicits those who are expected to give $250 and more.

The general division, which covers small offices, professional men and householders, last year received 15,811 pledges for $331,725, an average of $21. So far this year it has obtained 15,409 pledges for $175,148, an average of $11.37.

The employe division last year got 118,176 pledges for $587,926, an average of $5.06. Its record so far this year is 39,463 pledges for $309,490, an average of $7.84.

The county division, which has been particularly hard hit by unemployment, the average contribution has fallen from $5 to $1.86. Last year there were 1583 pledges totaling $8190, and this year there have been 644 totaling $1200.

Task Confronting Workers.

On the assumption that should the goal be reached each division would raise rather more or less than the quota assigned to it and that future contributions would be on the same scale as those already received, this is the task confronting each division:

Larger subscriptions division needs to find 1989 persons who will contribute $687 each toward the $1,365,583 needed to complete its quota of $2,350,000.

General division must obtain 23,294 additional pledges averaging $11.37 each, to raise the $266,887 required to complete its quota of $440,000.

Employe division must obtain $1700 more subscribers who will give $40.00 each, to reach its quota of $500,000.

County division must get 4230 pledges of $18.31 each, a total of $80,000, to reach its quota of $100,000.

Chaunteps said: "The delay does not dispose of the problem." It was a reference to France's default of the December payment. Chaunteps stressing the word "delay."

He indicated that France was responsible for the delay, and that the problem was a matter of present conditions preventing payment.

Referring to the debts, Chaunteps said: "Negotiations between the United States and France are in progress, and it is to that of Premier Laval, in fact, that the problem is being referred."

"In my opinion," said Chaunteps, "the French Government is not better qualified than Herriot to resume negotiations with America since he left the office of Premier in 1931, defending the cause of the 'payment'."

Fernand Souleuvre, President of the Chamber of Deputies; Henri Berenger, President of the Senate; Foreign Affairs Committee and other leaders of the Chamber and Senate, were present.

Debits Dominate Situation.

While comments are sparing, the view expressed by Chaunteps is that the debt problem entirely dominates the situation.

Former Premier Pierre Laval, who talked debts with President Hoover last year, former French Ambassador Theodore Slog and other leaders of the Senate have not yet had an official say on the debt question, the vote having been only in the Chamber.

It is understood Laval expressed to President Lelurh his approval of the Chamber's action proposing the payment and his conviction that a new moratorium would be the situation and permit negotiations.

$89,000, to reach its quota of $100,000.

Treasury division must get 1989 persons to give $118 each, a total of $235,000, to reach its quota of $440,000.

County division must get 4230 pledges of $18.31 each, a total of $80,000, to reach its quota of $100,000.

STATE INCOME TAX INCREASE UPHELD BY SUPREME COURT

Individual Brackets Established by Act of 1931 Declared to Be Reasonable, Not Discriminatory.

JUDGE W. T. RAGLAND WRITES THE OPINION

Provisions of Law Doubling Levy on Corporation Revenues Not Involved in Test Case Just Decided.

The Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch, JEFFERSON CITY, Dec. 16.—Claims of the heirs of Auguste Chouteau and John B. C. Lucas to the site of the old St. Louis Court-house, bounded by Broadway, Fourth, Market and Chestnut streets, on the ground abandonment of the building by the city for general court purposes was a violation of a grant of the land by Chouteau and Lucas in 1822, were denied today by the Missouri Supreme Court en banc.

This ruling was the first by the court on the new Missouri income tax law, which became effective Sept. 1, 1931.

The opinion, written by Judge W. T. Ragland, was concurred in by the other six judges. The court held that the graduated schedule of tax on individual incomes, ranging from 1 to 4 per cent of net income, for the former tax rate of 1 per cent, was sustained today by the Missouri Supreme Court en banc.

MAN, 74, FATALLY HURT BY AUTO IN THE COUNTY

Emil J. Ruth Stepped in Path of Machine, Driver Tells Police.

Emil J. Ruth, 74 years old, 6330 Corbett avenue, University City, died at Midland Hospital at 9 o'clock last night, of injuries suffered three hours earlier when he was struck by an automobile in the 7100 block of Page avenue.

The driver of the machine, Hilbert F. Thomure, a bookkeeper, 1225 Purcell avenue, University City, told police the man stepped directly in the path of his machine.

He was released on bond pending inquest.

WOMAN PATIENT HANGS HERSELF IN HOSPITAL

Ties Sheet Around Neck and Fastens Other End to Her Bed, Then Rolls Out.

Mrs. Rose Mieger, 43 years old, a patient at St. John's Hospital, hanged herself last night by placing part of a sheet around her neck and rolling out of her bed to which she had fastened the other end of the sheet, according to a report to the coroner today.

She was found shortly after midnight when another patient in the room was awakened by a noise, and called a nurse, Mrs. Mieger, who was operating on several days ago, and underwent a previous operation last month.

She was the wife of Charles H. Mieger, a street car conductor, of 6308 Alabama avenue.

VANDAL DISABLES OIL BURNER IN HOME OF MAYOR MILLER

Second Time in Two Weeks That He Has Called Police to Report Provoker.

Mayor Miller telephoned police early today to inform them that someone had tampered with the oil burner in the basement of the apartment at which he lives, 6100 Pershing avenue.

The Mayor asked for an immediate investigation and police from the Page Boulevard District were sent to the building. The oil burner, they found, had been turned off.

Two weeks ago Miller called police to the apartment at night and told them a prowler had been seen in the basement by a man who was sent there to adjust the oil burner.

Alcohol Ignites Auto Engine.

Alcohol, which Michael Lynch was pouring into the radiator of his automobile in a garage in back of his home, 3912 Kennerly avenue, last night, ignited on the engine and ignited. The flames set fire to the clothing of Gordon Barrows, a laborer, same address, who was standing beside the machine. Barrows was treated at city hospital for burns of the left leg.

MAN RESCUED AFTER SPENDING HALF HOUR IN UPSET COUPE

Machine of Fred Stephens Skids, Overturns in Ditch at Clayton and Watson Roads.

Fred Stephens, a poultry man for the St. Louis County Farm Bureau, spent a half hour in his overturned automobile in a ditch at Clayton and Watson roads last night. The car, a medium-weight coupe, skidded on a section of rough road adjoining a new bridge and fell upside down in a ditch about 20 feet deep. The sides of the ditch prevented passing motorists from opening the doors to extricate him.

Tumbling to the ceiling as the machine toppled over, Stephens remained there, calling to rescuers that he was unhurt. Harry Krueger, a Kirkwood garage man, saw the coupe was partially righted, enough to liberate Stephens, in five minutes' work.

RESIDENTS OF BURNING HOUSE AWAKENED BY BARKING DOG

Residents of a rooming house at 4301 Cookson avenue, Fairmount City, Ill., were awakened at 2:15 a. m. today by the barking of a police dog shut in the basement. The house was in flames. Rescuing the dog, the 12 roomers and the proprietor, Mrs. Anna Major, fled to safety.

The fire, presumably caused by an overheated furnace, started in the basement and had spread rapidly to the first floor, when the dog's noise awoke several roomers. The thirteen routed by the fire were awakened after a brief wait in the zero temperature at the homes of neighbors for the rest of the night.

Damage to the 2-story frame building and contents was estimated at $2000.

CHOUTEAU-LUCAS CLAIM TO COURT HOUSE SITE DENIED

State Supreme Bench Rejects Suit of Heirs to Recover Title to Block on Broadway.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Dec. 16.—Claims of the heirs of Auguste Chouteau and John B. C. Lucas to the site of the old St. Louis Court-house, bounded by Broadway, Fourth, Market and Chestnut streets, on the ground abandonment of the building by the city for general court purposes was a violation of a grant of the land by Chouteau and Lucas in 1822, were denied today by the Missouri Supreme Court en banc.

The court affirmed rulings of St. Louis Circuit Court, in four different suits, that the city held title to the land.

Chief Justice Ernest S. Gantt, who wrote two opinions disposing of the four cases, held Chouteau, his wife, Therese Cerre Chouteau, and Lucas had conveyed title to the land, forever, and that there was no provision in the conveyance for a reversion of the land. He ruled the heirs held no interest in the land.

The two opinions were based on construction of the conveyance, and of a legislative act of 1822, authorizing St. Louis County (as it was then), to accept a donation of a site for a courthouse. Title passed to the city when the city and county were separated in 1820. The city used the courthouse for general court purposes until June, 1930, when the Civil Courts Building on Memorial Plaza was completed.

The legislative act of 1822 authorized the creation of a commission to receive and accept a donation of a site for a courthouse. The site to be conveyed to the St. Louis County Court and its successors forever, in trust for the use of the county.

The offer of the Chouteaus and Lucas was accepted by the commission in August, 1822, and the owners signed the deed conveying the site on Nov. 11, 1825. The donors added a provision to the deed that the land be used forever as a site for a court-house site, but made no provision for reversion.

Judge Gantt held a provision in the legislative act that the land donated would be used as a site for a court-house did not limit the estate to be conveyed, but was merely a declaration that the land donated would be used for county purposes.

The various suits, to determine what rights the heirs held to the land, were filed by Henri Chouteau, Harriett Clark Williams, Charles Lucas, Auguste A. Chouteau, Arby Chouteau III, Francis E. Chouteau and other heirs.

POLICEMAN SLAIN, COMPANION SHOT BY BANK ROBBERS

Five Escape With $25,000 at Minneapolis, but Are Reported Surrounded in Park at St. Paul.

By the Associated Press.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Dec. 16.—One policeman was killed and another seriously wounded today in a fight with five men who held up the Third Northwestern National Bank and escaped with loot estimated at $25,000.

Later Police Headquarters announced the robbers had been surrounded in Como Park, St. Paul. Half a dozen Minneapolis police cars were sent there to join in the hunt.

Patrolmen Ira L. Evans and Leo R. Gorski arrived at the Northwestern Bank in response to a burglar alarm. The robbers, about to leave the bank, opened fire with a machine gun, killing Evans and wounding Gorski before they could leave their automobile.

Officer and Robber Killed in Fight After Cincinnati Holdup.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 16.—Four young men took command of an office building lobby in the heart of the city while they stole a $3418 payroll today, but in the chase that followed one robber and one patrolman were killed.

County Patrolman Daniel Souders was shot to death in a fight on the outskirts of the city, that started after the robbers' car ran into a ditch during a race to escape the officers. One robber, unidentified, was killed, two escaped and the fourth was captured.

Detective William Carney was injured seriously and two other detectives were hurt when their car collided with a truck in the pursuit.

Previously the four robbers stepped into the lobby of the Textile Building and held up two bystanders and two clerks. When William Morgan, bookkeeper of the Globe Tailoring Co., and Harry Benke, cashier, returned from the bank with a payroll, the robbers seized the money and forced all those in the lobby to enter an elevator.

The robbers fled in a large sedan, stolen at Dayton, O., but police, summoned by radio, were quickly on their trail. The fight began when the police came on the robbers' wrecked car.

DENVER BLOCK SWEEPED BY FIRE

Four Gasoline Tanks of 10,000 Gallons Each Explode.

DENVER, Colo., Dec. 16.—Four gasoline tanks of 10,000 gallons capacity each, exploded at the Union refining plant here today, causing a spectacular fire which swept an entire city block.

The explosion was thought to have been caused by breaking of a gasoline pipe in the refinery, allowing the liquid to strike a steam pipe. Paul Mesch, driver for a deputy fire chief, suffered serious injuries when his automobile was wrecked as he drove to the fire. A policeman was injured when a man hoisted cover was blown into the air. A fireman suffered injuries when hit by a flying nozzle.

SWINDLED BY TWO MEN POSING AS DETECTIVES

Edgar Oppinger Tells of Giving $1000 "Bond" on "Criminal Charge."

Edgar Oppinger, 4336A Gibson avenue, told police yesterday he had been swindled of $1000 by two men who posed as detectives and told him there was a criminal charge against him.

He said they came to his home first on the night of Dec. 1, one wearing a large badge. On their statement that he was wanted at Police Headquarters, he entered an automobile with them and was driven to Forest Park. There they asked him if he recognized any of the spots past which they took him.

He was driven to the Park Plaza Hotel, Kingshighway and Maryland avenue. One man entered, came out again and said, "It must be a case of mistaken identity." They took him home and told him they would call if he were wanted again.

Last Saturday, he told police, they called, said he was wanted at headquarters and took him in the sedan to Kingshighway and Easton avenue. There they told him he would have to appear in court and outlined a plan for his appearance before a Police Judge, who they said would levy a small fine.

He was instructed to give a fictitious name and address and to turn over to them $1000 for a cash bond which would be returned to him in an envelope by the clerk of the court. When he hesitated, they threatened him.

FILM ACTOR CONVICTED OF PASSPORT PERJURY

Duncan Renaldo Found Guilty of Swearing Falsely He Was American.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16.—Duncan Renaldo, movie actor, was convicted last night of falsely representing himself as an American citizen. The Federal Court jury deliberated less than an hour. He was released under $2000 bail pending sentencing next Monday.

Renaldo's attorney, W. T. Kendrick Jr., announced an immediate appeal would be taken in the event his motion for a new trial were denied. Federal Prosecutors Harry Balter and Fred Horowitz said they would make no recommendations to the court regarding sentence, as "the testimony and the record speak for itself."

Immigration authorities said deportation proceedings probably would be instituted against Renaldo if his conviction were upheld. Renaldo was convicted on all three counts of the indictment—making a false statement in a passport, falsely claiming to be a citizen of the United States and perjury. The indictment was made on a passport application signed by the actor March 14, 1929, prior to his leaving for Africa to film the jungle motion picture, "Trader Horn."

He gave his birthplace as Camden, N. J. The Government asserted he was born in Rumania. The prosecutors introduced evidence signed by Renaldo showing he gave his birthplace as Rumania before making his passport application.

Renaldo testified his parents took him from Camden to Rumania when he was a child, and that he re-entered the United States as a coal stoker in 1921.

He was indicted under his real name—Vasile Dumitree Coghleanas.

FORMER COLLEGE GIRL ATHLETE KILLS SELF

Miss Anita F. Franz, 25,
Sends Aunt for Walk
Then Ends Life.

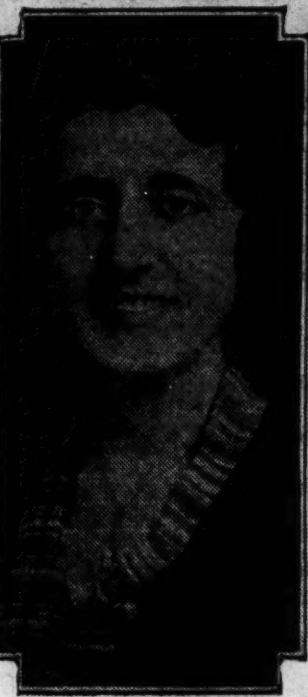

Miss Anita F. Franz, Washington University graduate and athlete, shot and killed herself yesterday afternoon at her home, 2040 Botanical avenue. She was 25 years old. A coroner's verdict of suicide while suffering a temporary aberration was returned today following testimony that Miss Franz had been under treatment for a nervous condition. She left no note. The body was found at 4 o'clock by Mrs. Mayme Erfer, aunt of Miss Franz, with whom the young woman had made her home for the last six months. Miss Franz had placed the muzzle of a revolver in her mouth and pulled the trigger, the bullet coming out above the right temple. She had been dead about an hour when the body was found. The revolver, belonging to Mrs. Erfer, was beside the body.

Mrs. Erfer told police she had gone for a walk at the urging of her niece, who said, "The brisk weather will do you good." Miss Franz declined to accompany her aunt, explaining that she had been outdoors during the morning. Mrs. Erfer discovered the body when returning from the walk.

Miss Franz was graduated from Washington University in 1921, and returned for a year to take her master's degree in business administration, finishing last June. Her extra-curricular activities, as told in the 1921 "Hatchet," were hockey, soccer, basketball, volleyball, baseball, track and tennis. She was a "W" woman, and had been active in the "Peppers," "Tramps" and "Sharpshooters."

Surviving are her father, Arthur W. Franz, 5073A Tholoan avenue, connected with Bruno Franz Sons,

AGREES ON PLAN TO BAR LIQUOR IN DRY STATES

Sub-Committee Framing Repeal Resolution Adopts Clause at Borah's Suggestion.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Making rapid progress in the framing a prohibition repeal resolution, a Senate Judiciary Subcommittee today agreed on a provision to prevent the importation of liquor into dry states.

After two days of discussion, the subcommittee tentatively approved the following language to protect states which want to remain dry: "The transportation or importation into any state, territory or possession of the United States for delivery or use therein of intoxicating liquors, in violation of the laws thereof, is hereby prohibited."

The language was originally suggested by Senator Borah (Rep., Idaho), long a leader of the dry cause, who has been fighting for prohibition for states which want to prohibit liquor.

The committee also discussed the possibility of including language to prevent return of the saloon, but committee members said little progress had been made in this direction.

Chairman Blaine said the committee also discussed the manner of submitting the resolution, but reached no decision. Both Republican and Democratic platforms proposed submitting a repeal resolution to state conventions rather than legislatures.

Blaine said there apparently was no objection within the committee to reporting out a repeal resolution. Senator Borah said after the meeting he had tentatively agreed to the wording of the clause for protecting dry states along with other members of the committee, and would favor reporting out the resolution in that form.

"But that doesn't mean I will support it for final passage in the Senate," Borah added. "Whether I vote for the eighteenth amendment depends on other matters."

Blaine said the committee would meet again early next week to continue its deliberations. Anti-prohibition leaders in the House were told today by Representative Huddleston (Dem., Alabama), that in advocating ratification of repeal by the convention method, they were inviting either delay or a ruling of unconstitutionality.

"If we are to have ratification by the states acting through conventions created by the states," he said, "we first must submit the question to the state legislatures and then the legislatures must take action to call conventions."

"Naturally, legislatures opposed to repeal will decline to take action and governors opposed will veto such actions."

"If these wet leaders have it in mind to take this course, they are providing means for delaying action and a means by which ratification is made more difficult."

"Accepting their sincerity in wanting speedy repeal, then it must be their intention to hold the conventions under the supervision of Congress itself. I do not believe that is constitutional."

Huddleston was one of 44 Democrats voting against the Garner repeal resolution Dec. 5. He said his future vote would be controlled by the intentions regarding the convention system.

JOBLESS MAN RECEIVES MONEY FROM ENEMY SOLDIER HE SAVED

German Gets Letter With $18 from French Officer He Rescued on Battlefield.

DUEREN, Germany, Dec. 16.—A French officer whom he rescued during the war has sent money to Hans Schultz, an unemployed laborer.

During one of the 1917 drives Schultz rescued the French officer who was badly wounded. They exchanged letters as the Frenchman convalesced in a hospital. Schultz, who has been without work for eight months, recently received a letter from his French friend with 400 francs (about $16) as a "Christmas present." The officer said he had just run across the German's name in an old diary and wanted to renew the friendship.

First Home Loans by United States

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—The first loans by regional banks of the Federal Home Loan Banking System were announced today by Franklin W. Fort, chairman of the board of the system. He said the regional bank at Winston-Salem, N. C., had lent $25,000, which would be devoted to remodeling and reconditioning homes and that the New Jersey regional bank had lent $100,000 to a building and loan association which had agreed to use it for making new loans to aid home owners.

Second Pilot in Crash Dies

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
AMARILLO, Tex., Dec. 16.—Ralph Montee, 30 years old pilot, died today in a hospital, from injuries suffered in the crash of a transport plane Wednesday night. J. E. Bowen, co-pilot, died shortly before noon yesterday. The two pilots were the only ones aboard the plane, which had taken off for Kansas City. Bad weather forced them to turn back to the airport here, and in the attempted landing the plane cracked up in a plowed field.

17-YEAR-OLD CHICAGO KILLER IS SENTENCED TO DEATH

CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—James Ignatius Vanecha, 17-year-old murderer and attacker of women, was sentenced to die in the electric chair by Chief Justice John J. Prystalski in criminal court today. His execution was set for Feb. 17.

Vanecha escaped twice from a State institution for the feeble-minded. On the night of Nov. 18 he stopped at a parked automobile in which Frank F. Jordan and a young woman sat and when Jordan resisted his holdup attempts he shot and killed him. A few minutes later he turned up at another car. Tying up the man, he threw him in the back seat and abducted both him and his young woman companion, finally throwing the man out, after which he assaulted the woman.

Sitting in at Ozanam Pinochle

ONE of the players in a pinochle game at Ozanam Shelter, home for destitute men.

Pinochle and Even Bridge Played at Ozanam Shelter

Home for Destitute Men Has Something of Atmosphere of Gentleman's Club That Has Gone Broke.

Undisturbed by spectators who paused by their table or by drifting clouds of tobacco smoke that swirled over their cards, four men played bridge Thursday, flanked by the inevitable "kibitzer" who drew up a chair and followed every play. The bridge players, clad in worn garments, were guests at Ozanam Shelter, the old Mullany Hospital, housing now destitute men, many of whom were prosperous a few years ago. Opened last February as an experiment, with 300 lodgers regarded as a full house, it now contains more than 820 men, operating close to capacity all of the time.

Three card rooms in the basement were crowded with pinochle players, while a row of checker addicts, most of them gray-bearded, occupied the balcony that was once a choir loft overlooking a thronged assembly room which once was the chapel. So the bridge players repaired to a corridor. All but one was over 50 and one was 72. One was an unemployed laborer. His partner was a contractor. They played against a cook and a paperhanger. The "kibitzer" was an accountant.

"We just use the 'optimistic' system," said the paperhanger, taking a trick, "and it seems to work out pretty well."

The corridor led to the big assembly room, lined with benches, foggy with smoke, every inch of space occupied. At the far end, where the altar used to stand, a donated pool table was in use with men standing in line to get a chance to play. Almost obscured by the smoke was a radio, bringing the latest Broadway melodies. Occasional groups played cards on the benches, with hardly room to lay down their hands. They were as oblivious of the noise as were the checker players engaged in a seemingly endless tournament on the balcony.

The downstairs game rooms were crowded and silent, save for the crisp terminology of the various games or occasional ejaculations marking the rise and fall of a player's luck. Stakes were mythical, for the men have nothing to play for.

"We need more cards," said the Rev. John J. Murphy, superintendent of the shelter, which is financed by the Bureau for Homeless Men, "because every player wants his own pack. Besides, there are many men who have to sit idle because there aren't enough cards and games to go around."

DIVORCES HERBERT DENNIS; RECEIVES $600 A MONTH

Wife Gets House and Insurance Policies With Provision for Four Children.

Mrs. Genevieve Dennis, 432 South Hanley road, obtained a divorce at Clayton today from Herbert Dennis, director and secretary of the Dennis Bros. Furniture Stores, operating in Alton and Granite City. The decree was granted on grounds of general indignity.

A stipulation shown to Circuit Judge Mueller provides that she shall receive $600 a month for the support of herself and four children, two paid-up insurance policies for a total of $15,000, four other policies totaling $75,000 on which Dennis will pay premiums, and the $12,500 duplex apartment in which the family live.

Mrs. Dennis testified her husband was cold and indifferent, stayed away from home for extended periods and asked her several times to get a divorce. They were married in April, 1913, and separated last August. Their oldest child is 17 years old and the youngest 7. Mrs. Dennis was represented by Alfred Kerib, an attorney. Dennis did not contest.

MILLERS SAY FARM AID PLAN WOULD DOUBLE BREAD PRICE

Spokesmen Testify at House Group's Hearing on Domestic Allotment Proposal.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Spokesmen for the flour milling industry told the House Agriculture Committee today the domestic allotment farm relief plan would impose an exorbitant sales tax that would double the price of flour to the consumer.

Fred J. Lingham of Lockport, N. Y., chairman of the Legislative Committee of the Millers' National Federation, said the demand for bread under present low prices was so reduced that many bakers have been forced out of business.

"If you double the price through this sales tax I don't know what they will do," he said. "We regard a sales tax on foods on any such basis as this as fundamentally wrong. We believe it would be so obnoxious it soon would be repealed."

WOMEN BREAK UP MEETING

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Dec. 16.—Five Communist women from the working class borough of Neukölln broke up a session of the City Council yesterday by crashing through attendants and invading the plenary hall with shouts of "we are working women, our children are hungry and they want bread."

The presiding officer left the chair as a signal that the meeting was adjourned and tried to calm the women who had to be removed by attendants.

GIRL TELLS HOW GANG KILLED MAN IN AUTO

Identifies Defendant at Madison, Wis., as 'Boss' to Whom Body Was Taken

By the Associated Press.

MADISON, Wis., Dec. 16.—Miss Sandra Livingston, 21 years old, of Milwaukee, who rode in the automobile in which Andrew Presti was kidnapped and slain last July 5, today identified Joe Gelosi of Elmira, N. Y., as the "boss" to whom the body of Presti was delivered at Janesville a short time after he was slain.

As Miss Livingston, companion of one of the two men who the State says were hired by Gelosi to put Presti out of the way, related in Gelosi's murder trial how Presti was lured away from his home in Madison and shot to death in the abductor's car, she was on the verge of tears.

The two men who did the killing have never been caught. One of them, Miss Livingston said, was Frank Maio, alias Delmonti, with whom she had lived.

The witness testified that on the fatal ride she was sitting in the back seat of the car with Maio. Presti and the other man were in the front seat. Maio, she said, fired two shots into Presti's head.

Then, she testified, they fled from Madison with the body, drove to Janesville, delivered it to the "boss" whom she identified as Gelosi, abandoned it at a roadside near Belvidere, Ill., and then drove to Joliet, Ill., where the party split up.

Miss Livingston testified that Gelosi threatened her with death after the body had been abandoned.

"The least said of this thing, the better for you," she quoted Gelosi as saying. "You don't want to be like that man back there, do you?" Maio, she said, stood between her and Gelosi.

"Better be careful," she said Maio told her.

TWO CHILDREN SENTENCED FOR ROBBERY OF BANK

Boy, 9, and Girl, 7, Sent to State Institutions by Judge at Bloomsburg, Pa.

By the Associated Press.

BLOOMSBURG, Pa., Dec. 16.—With apparently the same unconcern which they displayed in entering a bank in the heart of Bloomsburg's business section early last Sunday night and taking a bag of money, John Harrington Jr., 9 years old, and his sister, Lillian, 7, today heard Judge C. C. Evans commit them to State Institutions.

John was sent to the Glen Mills School for Boys and Lillian was placed in the care of the Home of the Good Shepherd, Philadelphia.

The father of the children told the Court of finding the two children near the business district and taking them to Chief of Police Walter Bender. They told of entering the small window in front of the Bloomsburg Bank Columbia Trust Co. and taking two bags containing small amounts of money which an employee, who was a Sunday school treasurer, had placed in a drawer of his desk earlier in the day.

WOMAN ROBBER WHO GOT $13,775 PAYROLL IS PAROLED

Mother of 8-Year-Old Girl Released From Kansas Industrial Farm.

By the Associated Press.

TOPEKA, Kan., Dec. 16.—Mrs. Vivian Scraper, 27 years old, who robbed payroll messengers of $13,775 in a daylight holdup here June 26, 1929, has been paroled from Kansas Industrial Farm for Women at Lansing.

Arrested two weeks after the robbery, Mrs. Scraper, the mother of an 8-year-old girl, told police she obtained the money to send a friend and companion, Cecil Streitt, to school.

At first she insisted Streitt was innocent, but later implicated him as the one who had planned the robbery. Streitt now is serving a term in State penitentiary. All except a few hundred dollars of the stolen money was recovered. Mrs. Scraper was sentenced July 6, 1929, to serve 10 to 21 years.

PAGE 8A PLANS TO PUT JOBLESS IN GERMANY ON LAND

Chancellor Outlines His Program—Insists Export Trade Is Necessary.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, Dec. 16.—Chancellor Kurt von Schleicher, in an address yesterday outlined his program, saying he was neither a capitalist nor a Socialist.

The soldier Chancellor defended President Von Hindenburg against attacks such as the one made by Gen. Karl Litzmann before the Reichstag Dec. 6. Litzmann asserted that history might curse the President for driving the country into bolshevism.

In blunt fashion Von Schleicher took Litzmann to task. "It is deeply regrettable," he said, "that the President's historical personality was brought into the conflict, particularly by an old comrade who understands discipline. It is my duty to take attention of this, both as Chancellor and as a soldier."

Von Schleicher outlined plans for settling the unemployed on land in the Eastern province. Indicating his economic course, he said it was impossible for the nation to exist on internal markets as it needed exports. He warned the Communists that the Government was ready to strike hard at rebellion.

The weekly "Black Front," edited by Otto Strasser, brother of the Hitlerite Lieutenant, George Strasser, says that Adolf Hitler, National Socialist leader, agreed to tolerate the Von Schleicher Cabinet when the Chancellor threatened to use his influence to cut off the party's financial sources. The weekly asserts that Hitler was facing a party debt of 12,000,000 marks (about $2,900,000).

New System Increases Hitler's Power Over Party.
By the Associated Press.
MUNICH, Germany, Dec. 16.—Adolf Hitler's control over his National Socialist party was increased yesterday by the appointment of "Commissars" whose purpose will be to raise the movement's "striking power."

These Commissars, permitted to act only on direct orders from Hitler, were installed in the majority of districts. They replaced sectional chiefs who were unsatisfactory to him.

Dr. Ludwig R. Geissler Dies.
By the Associated Press.
LYNCHBURG, Va., Dec. 16.—Dr. Ludwig Reinhold Geissler, professor of psychology and philosophy at Randolph-Macon Women's College here since 1920, died of cardiac asthma at his home here yesterday. He was a native of Leipzig, Germany. He was founder of the Journal of Applied Psychology and was its editor from 1916 to 1920. He was a bachelor of literature, graduate of the University of Texas, 1905, and took his doctorate at Cornell in 1909.

EXPLOSIONS RECORDED 2000 MILES DISTANT

Dynamite Set Off in Study of Movement of Sound Waves.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, Dec. 16.—The sound of dynamite explosions in Nova Zembla, Arctic Islands, 2000 miles away, and in Holland, were recorded upon instruments of the meteorological observatory at Potsdam yesterday.
The explosions were set off by scientists as part of a study of Arctic weather in which scientists of leading nations have been participating.
The dynamite was exploded to study the passage of sound waves from place to place, especially that part of the sound which arches high into the stratosphere. It is thought that such sounds may carry great distances in a path resembling that of a shell from a big cannon.
There is a theory that the temperatures in the upper stratosphere are warmer than those which have thus far been measured by instruments carried aloft by meteorological balloons. If this is true, scientists think it might be proved by the way sound waves act when they pass into the warmer layers of upper air.
It is also hoped to get information on the "zones of silence" which were noted by some observers during wartime. Such zones might come from sound waves interfering with one another.
The explosions today were read on instruments in 20 different places in Europe.

LOZIER CHARGES OCEAN MAIL COSTS TO U. S. ARE EXCESSIVE

Many Contracts Not Far Removed from Legalized Graft, He Says
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Representative Lozier (Dem.), Missouri, told the House yesterday that "many ocean mail contracts are not far removed from legalized graft."
"The compensation on ocean mail contracts is grossly excessive," Lozier said. "The subventions have been carried to unreasonable limits."
"In the fiscal year 1931 Government payments on ocean mail were $18,700,000. This equaled a bounty to a certain favored steamship company of $15,885,000 over the cost of carrying that mail under the general statute."
"We can't develop a great merchant marine by hot-house methods. The merchant marine act of 1928 is being administered unwisely and extravagantly."

Ex-Governor of Florida Dies.
By the Associated Press.
SARASOTA, Fla., Dec. 16.—Former Gov. William W. Stickney of Vermont died suddenly at his winter home here yesterday. He was 79 years old and was Governor from 1900 to 1902. From 1902-06 he served as Speaker of the Vermont House of Representatives. Mr. Stickney was executor of the estate of John Coolidge, father of the former President. He also was a law partner of former United States Attorney-General A. G. Sargent before he retired from active practice some time ago.
